Buildable acres will hit agenda

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The issue of reviewing the PUD (planned unit development) ordinance with the possibility of changing it so that density is figured on usable acres instead of on a parcel's gross acreage has not been dropped and will end up on the combined planning and zoning board agenda, though nothing is currently scheduled.

Trustee Barbara Porch said, "I would like to apologize to Mr. (Bob) Silhan (director of planning and zoning). He was not given the entire communication regarding density," after resident Marion Brandt asked why the item didn't make the agenda following the Aug. 6 motion by the board of directors of the Village of Antioch.

It was noted that the combined planning and zoning board agenda is set up one month ahead of time. "It takes time," said Trustee Wayne Foresta. "It was probably rolled into the Comprehensive Plan (agenda item)."

Trustee Dorothy Larson added, "We can't put off things that have already been applied for (and placed on the agenda), to get these things worked in."

Porch later added that the use of the term "moratorium" in an ordinance as per the one created by Highland Park and brought to the board's attention by resident Nancy Binder.

Porch asked the board to consider hiring a planning consultant or a land use attorney to assist with the review of the PUD ordinance and the Comprehensive Plan.

Silhan said, "Given the combination of the work load and the time frame, the board may want to consider that."

Geo-Karis skates into youths' hearts

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis made a request for $100,000 from her discretionary funds to be used to support the skate and bicycle park that is to be constructed in Williams Park.

After speaking to Mayor Taso

Maravelas about the park and fielding requests for support from Laurie

Stahl, parks and recreation director and Trustee Dorothy Larson, Geo-Karis made her pledge of support.

Maravelas said, "I received a fax from Sen. Geo-Karis today telling that she would help out with the skate park. I had talked to her during the Lions' chicken barbecue, and some kids told her about the need for the skate park and I asked her, 'Why don't you help them?' This is really wonderful."

In her note to the mayor, Geo-Karis said, "I believe in helping youngsters be safe and having their own facility for safety's sake." The board of directors of the village of Antioch approved a proposal put forth by a special committee of the parks and recreation board to transform the paved area of Williams Park currently used for the fire department's water fights into a skate park earlier this month.

The funds will do a lot to bolster the budget for the park. The parks and recreation department has an approved budget that will allow it spend $25,000 this year for site improvements, and another $25,000.

"During my campaign, a lot of families came to me with concerns about where their children could be, and this is a good place," said Maravelas.

New senior services committee created

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Mayor Taso Maravelas thanked the board of directors of the Village of Antioch for unanimously approving the creation of a senior services committee.

The mayor recommended creating the committee and is fulfilling one of his campaign promises in doing so. "I would like to create a senior services committee to look over the Senior Center and to oversee new programs," he said.

The committee will meet regularly with staff at the Senior Center. "This will help facilitate getting the services they need at the Senior Center," said Trustee Scott Pierce.

Trustee Larry Hanson added, "I think this is a good idea. We'll have another set of eyes on what's happening."

County youth corps selects first executive director

Bob McCammon, formerly the superintendent of support services for the Lake County Forest Preserve, has hit the ground running in the newly-created position of executive director of The Youth Conservation Corps, Inc. (YCC), a private, non-profit organization serving Lake County, and based in Libertyville.

McCammon is now responsible for overseeing the operation of a summer program, with 55 corps members from all over the county, as well as a year-round program, created in July of this year, servicing economically disadvantaged young adults.

McCammon was selected from a field of 30 applicants in a national search targeting candidates in the "corps community."

YCC, Inc. had been considering creating the new position since 1995. The organization has been run by a volunteer board which included corporate vice-presidents, small business entrepreneurs and interested private citizens.

"It has been supported mostly by corporations such as Abbott, Allegiance, Kemper and Walgreen's, as well as smaller businesses such as the Dempsey Financial Group in Libertyville and Graphic Partners, Inc. in Zion," McCammon explained.

Tim Dempsey presently serves as president of the YCC.

"The board wrote checks, filled out grant applications, conducted lotteries (to select corps members) and worked hard at the annual golf outing," he said.

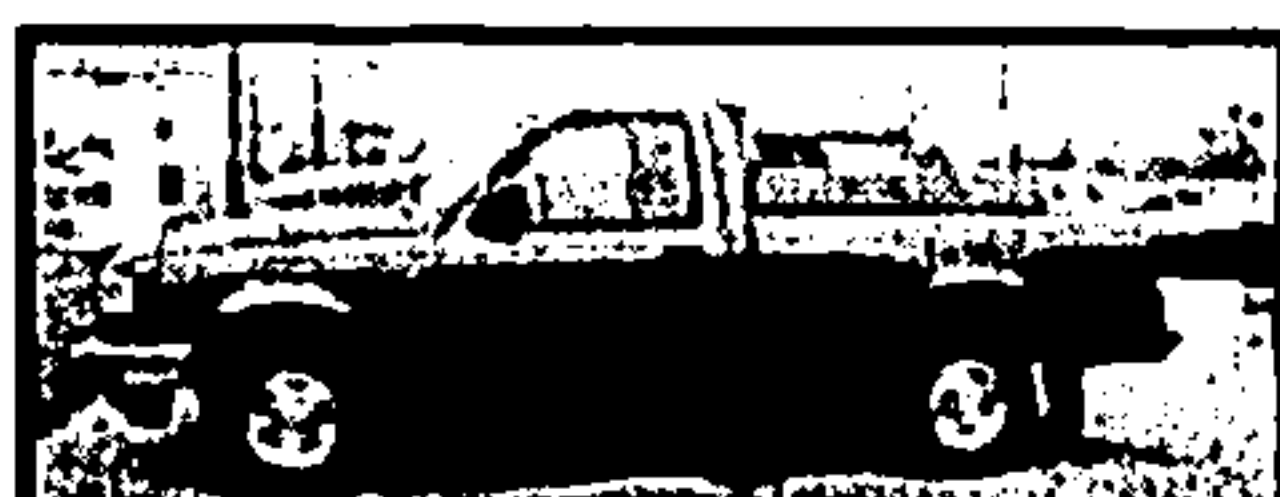

McCammon characterized the volunteer board as "a working board, not a letterhead board."

Over the past four years, fundraising has increased. With the creation of the new program, called the Youth with a Promise Corps, the way has been opened for the organization to apply for federal funds earmarked for youth at risk.

The new executive director was uniquely suited for the paid position

Lively barbecue, auction planned

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

It's no gamble that the annual pork chop barbecue and auction to be held by the Antioch Rotary Club on Oct. 6 will be a lively one with the theme of "Viva Las Vegas." This year's event will take place at Father Hanley Hall in St. Peter School with dinner served from 5:30-7 p.m. and the auction beginning at 7 p.m. and running until about 10 p.m.

"We have so many great things for this year's auction," said Rotarian Bob Schneider. "We have week-long trips to New Zealand and Australia, and we're working on another one to maybe China."

He added that the club is working on appearances from "Elvis" and "Frank Sinatra."

The main thrust of the fund-raising dinner auction is to benefit the Antioch Rotary Scholarship Fund. "The fundraising benefits some of our other community and international projects, but most of the money is for our scholarship fund," said Schneider. "This year I think we gave about $24,000 to teens within the Antioch school area for college."

In addition to trips of far away destinations, there will be plenty to bid on closer to home. "There are lots of theme dinners," said Schneider. "One of them is a Louisiana shrimp boil for eight."

Day outings include four skybox tickets for the Green Bay - Tampa Bay game on Nov. 4 in Green Bay. Schneider added, "We also have Bears tickets and hockey and baseball tickets."

One special item donated each year by Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) is the opportunity for one young adult to be a page for a day in the Illinois House of Representatives. Also in the "special" category is a Sammy Sosa autographed baseball.

Other smaller items and crafts will also be auctioned.

Tickets are $20 per person and include dinner and a raffle ticket with a winning prize of a $500 travel certificate from Travel by Design. Tickets are on sale at the State Bank of The Lakes, First National Bank-Employee Owned and will be on sale at the door.

To donate an item, or for more information, call Schneider at 395-4444.

Church restoration begins

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Restoration work is set to begin on the former Episcopal Church (since 1915), located on Main St. that was purchased by the Lakes Region Historical Society to preserve the oldest structure in Antioch. It is the intention of the society to restore the structure to its original look in 1863 when it was built for the Disciples of Christ.

Equally historic is the addition to the church of the army barracks from Fort Sheridan that was moved to Antioch about 1920, after World War I.

The initial work began on neighboring properties, also purchased by the historical society, to allow space for an off-street driveway and parking. Off-street parking is necessary, in part, to allow for work along Rte. 83 (Main St. in Antioch).

The parking lot groundbreaking took place on Aug. 30 prior to Labor Day weekend. Though final bidding for the restoration is not complete, the site work contract was awarded to Leo J. Fox, of Antioch.

One of the properties adjacent to the church is the Lasco property, and the building on the property will be used as an archive and research center. This center will be open to the public making Antioch's historic and family history collection available.

"Painters have been working on the Lasco House," said project manager Earl Beese.

The Rectory Building is located on the other neighboring property, and will be used by the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation to exhibit local artistry as well as conduct educational programs. "It's a nice arrangement between this group and the historical society," said Beese.

One noticeable change is that the stained glass windows are starting to be removed from the church. Other not so noticeable changes are that the pews from inside have been removed and stored.

"Community development loaned us some of the summer workers to move the pews to the garage," said Beese. "We appreciate that they were willing to do that for us."

The society is still going to maintain the School House Museum at Depot and Main streets. "We are very crowded at our museum location, but this additional space will provide more storage, processing, exhibits and a sizeable meeting room."

Beese added, "If you would like to become involved in this exciting activity, call Bob Lindblad at 395-0899, or attend the next regular meeting on Sept. 27 at the School Museum."

Powder Puff kicks off homecoming week

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Breaking with tradition, the Powder Puff football games will be played on Sunday, Sept. 16 at 1 p.m. as the "kick off" event for the week of homecoming at Antioch Community High School (ACHS) on the varsity football field.

"We are excited that the administration has given us permission to have this activity for the first time on a Sunday afternoon," said Joann O'Connell, a parent, teacher at ACHS and a member of the ALL Parent Network hosting the event for the second year. "We'd like to get the word out about this tradition at ACHS that moves into a different time slot during homecoming week."

According to O'Connell, the event was held after school, but because of conflicts with athletes involved in school-sponsored sports the day was changed. "Having this activity on a Sunday afternoon gives all girls an opportunity to play and also provides the opportunity for family, friends and other students to attend," she said.

"The senior girls are pitted against the junior girls, and the sophomore girls take on the freshman girls," said O'Connell. "Both games are really exciting, and the ladies take it all very seriously." The sophomore/freshman game begins at 1 p.m. with the senior/junior game immediately following.

There will be male cheerleaders to get the crowd motivated. There will also be a concession stand.

The following faculty members will be the coaches: seniors - Amber Fox and Sara English from the math department; juniors - Dee Lang from the Learning Center; sophomores - Will Zibell from the English department and Karen Danner from the science department; freshman - Jennifer Stennett from the guidance department.

The admission charge for spectators is $1 for adults, 50 cents for students and seniors. All proceeds will go to the high school's post-Prom 2002 boat trip on the Odyssey.

The ALL Parent Network is made up of about 500 families who want safe, drug-free activities for their students.

Win a Caribbean cruise

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Though the unofficial end of summer has just passed, it's not too late to start thinking about a Caribbean cruise. Raffle tickets are on sale through the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry now until all 300 tickets are sold for a one-week Caribbean cruise for two.

"There are so few tickets for this that they always sell out," said Barbara Porch, director of the Chamber. "It's a great opportunity to win an exciting cruise vacation."

The 300 tickets sell for $25 each and are available at the Chamber office located at 884 Main St. or from any Chamber officer.

In addition to the cruise on Royal Caribbean, the first-prize winner will receive airfare and $250 cash to cover port charges.

"Whoever wins will tell the travel agent at Antioch Travel (the event's sponsor) when they want to go, and the agent will tell them what's available at that time," said Porch. "Last year's winner didn't waste any time, and took their cruise in February."

The winning ticket will be drawn on Saturday night, Oct. 20, at the band shell during Halloween Howl.

For more information, call the Chamber office at 395-2233.

A 'faire' benefit-early holiday shopping

There will be more than 100 exhibits at the arts and crafts fair and second (not seventh as I had mistakenly reported last week) annual quilt walk being held Sept. 8-9 in downtown Antioch, offering the perfect opportunity to do some early holiday shopping.

A different mix of artisans will be at this faire, and will feature more Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas goods than the show did this past spring. Jewelry, candles, ceramics, pottery and wind chimes are among the items that will be for sale over the weekend.

Booklets describing each new quilt and its location within the windows of downtown Antioch will be available at the Chamber's booth or at the Quilter's Dream store located on the east side of Main Street where Lake Street ends. Picking up one of these booklets will ensure that every quilt is seen.

Antique quilts will be on display at the Lakes Region Historical

Julie Murphy

Society north of Orchard on Main Street from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Quilter Regina Reynolds will be on hand at the historical society to give a talk about the antique quilts on both Saturday and Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Some food will be available, and Eberle's Farmer's Market from Trevor, Wis. will have a space at the fair.

Parking will be available at the municipal lot off of Toft Street and in the parking lot behind the shops on Main Street as well as at the grade school about one block away.

While you're there, don't forget to register for a chance to win $250 in Chamber gift certificates at the participating Quilt Walk merchants. Only one winner will be drawn in the two-day event.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are in need of a showcase for ribbons and plaques, small appliances (not stoves or refrigerators) and silverware for the kitchen, storage cabinets for the basement and some window treatments for the upstairs of the Scout House that just reopened.

Boy Scout committee member and advancement chair Linda Veach said the scouts are hoping to get three flag poles for the front of the building: one for the American flag and one each for the Boy and Girl Scouts.

If you'd like to help out, call Veach at 838-0855.

It's entertainment 2002 and car wash time at St. Peter Parish

The St. Peter Parish Youth group is looking to raise money to enable them to attend the National Catholic Youth Conference and World Youth Day in Toronto, Canada in July of 2002. In order to fund the trip they will be selling Entertainment Book 2002 and holding a car wash.

The Entertainment book is basically geared towards anyone who likes to eat and doesn't mind saving money in doing so. It is full of coupons for buy one meal, get the second meal free at local restaurants. The book has coupons for the fine dining restaurants, family friendly sit-down type eateries, as well as informal dining and carry outs. It also has other entertainment avenues such as discounted tickets to professional and non-professional spectator sports, theaters and stage shows. It contains movie rentals, dry cleaner discounts, and car wash tokens. It carries miniature golf coupons, and two for one deals at regular golf courses throughout the area.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Also among its pages are discounted tickets for the Bristol Renaissance Faire, museums and zoos. The final section of the book offers discounted room rates at hotels across the United States as well as Hawaii, Mexico and the Caribbean as well as discounts on airfares and rental cars.

The St. Peter Youth group is selling the Northwest Illinois edition which encompasses restaurants and activities from the Illinois state line down through the heart of Chicago for $25, and the Milwaukee edition, which covers from the Illinois state line up to the Wisconsin Dells for $35. You can't go wrong with the purchase of one of these books. Your initial investment is re-cooped if you use the book one night at a hotel, or two dinners at a fine dining establishment—even if you just utilize the fast food section, you save plenty.

These books are available for most major metropolitan areas and can be ordered through the youth group—don't forget what a great Christmas present one of these books would make for grandma and grandpa in Florida and Arizona

For more information call Mary Leonard at 395-0246. Also in line to raise some money is a car wash which will take place on Saturday, Sept. 8 from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. behind St. Peter's Church. So scratch one more chore off your list by visiting the youth group members and let them polish that chrome and shine those white walls. The members of the youth group truly appreciate your support.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

DUI

Bridget M. Kiney, 25, of 4313 N. Overhill, Norridge, Ill., was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on Sept. 2 at 12:53 a.m. on westbound Rte. 173 at Rte. 83.

Police observed a vehicle traveling at a slow rate of speed and impeding traffic, and locked the speed at 30 mph in a 45-mph zone. Additionally, the officer witnessed the vehicle cross over the fog line.

As the officer spoke with Kiney, the strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on her breath. She failed all field sobriety tests requested of her.

Kiney was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where she was issued citations for improper lane usage and DUI. She submitted to a breathalyzer test resulting in a .148 blood alcohol concentration.

Kiney was issued an additional citation for DUI over .08 (.148), and was released on personal recognizance pending her Oct. 16 court date.

Johnathon J. King, 22, of 42420 Ash St., Antioch, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on Sept. 2 at 3:03 a.m. on Rte. 173 and Seventh Ave.

Police locked his vehicle traveling 71 mph in a 40-mph zone, and observed the vehicle cross over the double yellow line with both left tires.

King rolled down the window only 2 inches to hand the officer his driver's license. The officer requested he exit the vehicle and reported he had difficulty undoing the seat belt.

Police detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on King's breath, and noted in that his speech was slurred. King failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for speeding and DUI. King agreed to a breathalyzer test resulting in .191 blood alcohol concentration.

King received additional citations for DUI over .08 (.191), and improper lane usage. He was released on $100 cash bond pending his Oct. 16 court date.

William Jay Morgart, 28, of 412 Sterling, Downers Grove, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and for driving while suspended on Sept. 2 at 11:30 p.m. on Rte. 173 west of Rte. 83.

Police observed a vehicle cross over the fog line onto the shoulder and continue to weave within its lane of traffic. When stopped, Morgart told police he had neither a driver's license nor proof of insurance.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Morgart's breath. He failed all field sobriety tests. His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC and came back that his driver's license was suspended.

Morgart was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued a citation for DUI. He agreed to a breath test resulting in .146 blood alcohol concentration.

Morgart was issued additional citations for improper lane usage, driving while suspended, having no insurance and DUI over .08 (.146). He was released on personal recognizance pending his Oct. 2 court date.

Revoked

Kenneth E. Piasecki, 52, of 19900 128th St., Bristol, Wis., was arrested for driving while revoked on Aug. 31 at 12:56 p.m. at the intersection of routes 173 and 83.

Police observed a vehicle with expired registration pull out of a service station onto eastbound Rte. 173 and turn left onto Rte. 83, causing the southbound traffic to slow down.

Piasecki handed the officer two traffic citations when his driver's license was requested. His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC with information coming back that his license was revoked.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for disobeying a traffic signal, driving while revoked and driving with expired registration.

Piasecki was released on $100 cash bond pending his Sept. 26 court date.

No valid drivers license

Paul E. Eames, 30 of 25411 W. Hickory, Antioch, was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on Sept. 2 at 12:18 a.m. on Rte. 83 north of Beach Grove Rd.

Police saw a vehicle traveling with only one headlamp, and when the officer turned around to follow also saw that the driver's side taillight was broken.

The officer checked Eames's identifiers through LEADS/NCIC with information coming back that his driver's license expired in September 2000.

Eames was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for having no valid driver's license, operating a vehicle with only one headlamp, having a broken taillight and the operation of a vehicle with expired registration.

He was released on personal recognizance pending his Oct. 24 court date.

Alejandro Bahena Morales, 28, of 218 Frank Ave., Racine, Wis., was arrested for driving with no valid driver's license on Aug. 30 at 12:27 p.m. on northbound Anita from Anita Terrace.

Police locked Morales traveling 39 mph in a 25-mph zone. He gave police an instructional permit and a Wisconsin identification card. His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC coming back with no valid driver's license.

Morales was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. and issued citations for speeding and having no valid driver's license. He was released on personal recognizance pending his Oct. 26 court date.

Shame on you

Talk about extremes! Sports fans, you missed out—most of you, anyway.

Granted, Labor Day had a lot of us on the run but where else could you have gone to see such a contrast in personalities? And some of these guys could play golf, too!

"I want to go follow Bruce Jenner," an 8-year-old boy said to his parents.

Actually, the youth had several stars to pick from.

It was all a part of the Tom Dreesen Celebrity Invitational, held at Grand Geneva Spa & Resort in Lake Geneva Aug. 28 through Sept. 2.

"You sure have a bunch of characters out here," said Hall of Fame pitcher and 5-handicapper Rollie Fingers in between shots on the 17th hole.

A few holes behind Fingers was the always-charismatic punky QB known as Jim McMahon, who sports a 2-handicap but didn't play like it during the first round of the two-day event.

"Go in the darn water," he shouted after airmailing a chip from behind the dance floor. But that was the kind of day—a chance to see all walks of sports figures, both stars of the past and even some of the present.

The event served as one of the stops on the Celebrity Players Tour, now in its fifth year.

"We've had over 40 events since its inception," said host and renowned comedian Tom Dreesen, who has made over 500 television appearances.

While some of the players, like the three-some of Hall of Famers Mike Schmidt, Gary Carter and Carlton Fisk had the game faces on as they approached the 16th tee, two groups ahead was the opposite—the soft-spoken Country Western singing star Charlie Pride.

"I'm not sure where it (the ball) is going. I just like playing the game," said the artist of the classic Country Western favorite "Behind Closed Doors."

It all added up to close interaction, at times, with players in this star-studded field. While there was a purse involved for the players, proceeds from the event benefited the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Wisconsin and the National Multiple Sclerosis Society-Greater Illinois Chapter.

"It's a lot of fun and for a great cause," said actor Dennis Farina.

Former Major League Baseball player Rick Rhoden continued his dominance in CPT play. The former pitcher for the Pirates, Dodgers, Yankees and Astros fired a two-day, 8-under-par total of 136 (70-66). Rhoden has won more than 35 tournaments on the CPT.

"We hope to make this a regular stop for CPT events," said Dreesen.

The American Pool Players Association (APA) is holding a 1st Annual 9-ball tournament Sunday, Sept. 16 beginning at 11:30 a.m. at The Barn in Kenosha. The event is double-elimination and costs $10 per player. All prize money goes back to the players. Free pizza slices will be served during the event.

The first 32 players entered will comprise the field. The Barn is located at 2114 52nd Street in Kenosha.

Call league operator J.R. Buhs at 262-697-7867 for further information.

The Grayslake YMCA is sponsoring the Gatorade NFL Punt, Pass and Kick Day Sat., Sept. 8 from 9 a.m.-noon at the Warren Township Center in Gurnee. The event is for football athletes ages 8-15. Come and show off your ability in punting, passing and place-kicking. Top scorers will advance to sectionals and also have a chance to show their talent at a professional football game. The event is free.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

Who was the last Lake County team to win a football championship?

Answer to last week's question:

The Miami Dolphins were the only team to beat Chicago during the Bears' Super Bowl season in 1985-86. Final score in the Monday Night classic was 38-24.

Just keep playing the theme for Nielsen

Lady Sequoit golfers look for repeat performance

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Her game might not be up to snuff as of yet but Antioch varsity girls golfer Danielle Nielsen, a junior, is on the right track.

"I had a bad start this season," said Nielsen, a sectional qualifier last year. Nielsen also worked at The Merit Club in Gurnee over the summer.

"I'm not hitting the ball that well but I'm thinking better out on the course."

And with the course management improved, head coach Steve Wapon and the Lady Sequoits try and duplicate their sectional berth from 2000. Antioch also placed fourth in the North Suburban Lake division.

"My main focus is golf. I think a lot of the girls look for me to help them because I've been playing longer," added Nielsen.

Nielsen's average has slipped from 44 to 47 for nine holes but she is confident the Lady Sequoits will be ready come regionals.

"I need to work on the short game. That's a trouble spot right now," said Nielsen, who also plays basketball and softball. "But hopefully as a team, we can continue to shoot in the 180s and qualify for sectionals again."

The 180 benchmark was set last week when the Sequoits earned a solid 187-194 victory at Spring Valley Golf Club in Salem, Wis.

Nielsen led the team with a 43. She also shot a season-low 37 in a 174-184 victory over Evanston the week before.

"She (Nielsen) really picked it up for us," said Wapon. "She knows she is a good golfer. She's relaxed more."

And when Nielsen isn't on her game, a combination of youth and experience is ready to pick her up.

Sophomores Katie Malcolm and Katie Lincoln each carded 48s in the win over Stevenson. Freshman Megan Placko fired a 48 to round out the four-player scoring. Junior Sarah Stampfl also looks to figure into the rotation. Stampfl, who shot 50 against Stevenson, will share the No. 6 spot on varsity with one of the team's two seniors in Erica Hedlund.

"Erica provides a lot of leadership for us," said Wapon.

The team's only other senior is Whitney Sehmer, who also fired a 50 against the Pats. Sehmer was All-North Suburban last year, finishing 12th in the conference meet.

In the match against Evanston, Malcolm carded a 40, Stampfl 48 and Placko a 49 to go along with Nielsen's 37. Other scoring had Sehmer with a 50 and Lincoln a 54.

Wapon couldn't be happier by the teams fast start.

"So far, we're 4-1 in dual meets and 1-0 in the North Suburban," he said. "Lake Forest will be the team to beat (in conference)."

In the big win over Stevenson, Wapon noted that the team's putting was the difference.

"We always play them tough," he said. "Our putting that day, though, I think was the difference. We work hard on it. But our approach shots are also better. Good approach shots lead to good putts. That's what we're trying to build on. We're heading in the right direction."

Wapon added, "the girls are learning to just punch out when they get in trouble, take their medicine and move on to the next hole. I'm very pleased with where we are considering we didn't have a lot of summer tournament participation."

Meanwhile, the junior varsity team is also off to a roaring start at 4-0, including a 236-246 win over nemesis Stevenson.

Junior Renee Ramirez was the medalist with a 54, followed by Hedlund (59), junior Katie MacNeish (59) and junior Candace Hill (64).

Team members and their averages to date include: Ramirez (56); Maggie Ludwig (60); Hill (63); MacNeish (56); and freshman Bevin Gracey (70).

Tornadoes storm Schwaben tournament

The Lindenhurst Tornadoes boys 11- and under travel soccer team advanced to the semifinals of the 30th annual Schwaben Youth Soccer tournament in Buffalo Grove before losing 4-1 to eventual champion Sockers FC, one of Illinois' premier soccer clubs.

Playing its first game on a full-size field with 11 players, the Tornadoes opened with a 3-0 win over Evanston. Lindenhurst relied on superior passing skills and solid team defense to dominate the game. Chris Staton, Joshua Oppenheim, and Breck Hughes all scored goals with Eric Holst and Andy Donovan each registering assists. Keepers Matt Holmes and Joshua Larson combined for the shutout.

In the second game, the Tornadoes faced the Magic (Mich.) Soccer Club, coached by former Chicago Sting all-star Pato Marjetic. The Tornadoes battled to a 1-0 victory behind Oppenheim's second goal of the tournament—a low, left-footed shot into the far corner of the net from 14-yards out.

The Tornadoes then fell to host Schwaben, which won its first two games by a combined score of 11-0. Despite several excellent scoring chances and an evenly played game, the Tornadoes lost 3-0. However, the 18 points Lindenhurst earned in its first two games were enough to qualify for the playoffs as the wildcard team.

In a 4-1 semi-final loss to the Sockers, Lindenhurst found itself down by a goal only 22 seconds into the match. But the team withstood the Sockers' relentless pressure the remainder of the half and tied the game 1-1 with only 12 minutes remaining on Andy Donovan's 40-yard breakaway goal. The celebration was short-lived as the Tornadoes gave up three unanswered goals. Donovan added his second goal of the match with three minutes left, leaping to his feet following an injury to poke a deflection underneath the charging Sockers' keeper from eight yards out. Staton, Matthew Beadle and Joshua Gaido each dished out assists in the game, while Larson stopped 16 Sockers shots.

The Tornadoes had the opportunity to meet Chicago Fire star and 1994 World Cup MVP Hristo Stoichkov. One of the most respected and renowned soccer players in the world, Hristo was kind enough to supply autographs to each member of the team.

Sequoit boys golf looks to defend title

By JOE PRUSKI
Lakeland Correspondent

As the Antioch boys golf team has steadily improved over the last five years, only one roadblock has stood in their way in the conference—Lake Forest.

However, this could be the season that Antioch makes it over the hump straight to the top of the conference.

Experienced leadership to go along with talented youth has been the staple of this seasons squad. Seniors Andrew Kinney and Shawn Schuler have led the Sequoits thus far this season, both averaging under 40 strokes per 9 holes. Kinney has led for Antioch with a team low average of 37.7, including a low round of 35 when Antioch shot a school-record last week.

Antioch Country Club, Grant's home course, was the sight of the Sequoits record-breaking team score of 144. Adam Placko matched Kinney with a 35 while freshman Joe Kinney, Andrew's younger brother, finished with a 36. Schuler came in with a 38 to round out the top four.

"The kids came in and shot awesome scores," said head coach Jeff Moxley. "They went to a visiting course and played like they knew they could."

That score, to go along with the teams 3-1 record having only lost to Lake Forest, is much of the reason Moxley has such high expectations for the year.

"I'd like to be top-3 in conference giving Lake Forest and Libertyville a run for the conference championship. I'd also like to place a team in the regional and take a couple of kids to state," said Moxley.

Lake Forest proved to be 16 strokes better than Antioch on Sept. 4 when it posted a team score of 143 to Antioch's 159 at Conway Farms in Lake Forest.

The Lake Forest squad posted scores of 34, 36, 36, and 37. Andrew Kinney shot 38 to lead Antioch.

On Sept. 8, Antioch will host its annual tournament at Spring Valley Country Club in Salem, Wisconsin. This will be their first chance to avenge their loss to Lake Forest earlier this week.

"I'd like to duplicate our invitational title from last season," said Moxley.

Moxley also hopes to place four Sequoits in the invite with medals.

"It's a tough field but were capable if we can play how we have in the past," he said.

Phone registration OK for story times

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Due to the construction at the library, phone registrations are being allowed for the fall children's story times at the Antioch Public Library through Sept. 8. The 12-week session begins on Sept. 10 and continues through the end of November.

The theme for this fall is "furry friends" and library boasts many animal favorites as well as new stories.

Story time for 2-year-olds is designed to introduce toddlers to a group setting. The library asks that one adult accompany one toddler for these sessions.

For 3-year-olds, the children go with librarian and the other children to the story time room. Parents or guardians are requested to remain inside the building.

Children 4-5 years old are to follow the same rules as the 3-year-olds. Kindergartners are welcome to these story sessions.

To register, and for more information about story days and times, call the library at 395-0874.

Peterson takes steps to save property taxpayers money

Senator Bill Peterson intends to propose a new law that will save property taxpayers money. Peterson (R-Long Grove) held a public hearing of the Senate Revenue Committee to gather feedback from interest groups and the public on his plan before crafting the legislation.

"You save interest if you pay your car loan ahead or if you pay off your credit cards each month," said Peterson. "Why should property taxes be any different? If you pay your property taxes ahead you should get a break."

The legislation, which Peterson intends to fine-tune and introduce next spring, would give property taxpayers (except in Cook County) a three percent break if they pay their tax bill in one lump sum, rather than two installments. The break would be calculated on the amount of the second installment.

Currently, all counties in Illinois, except Cook, bill taxpayers in two installments, but give the option of paying the full amount with the first installment. In Cook County, taxpayers do not know the amount of their full tax bill until they receive the bill for the second installment, making a discount difficult to administer.

Florida, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, and West Virginia offer similar discounts to property taxpayers.

Peterson wants to craft the legislation so it will benefit not just taxpayers, but also local taxing districts, who will have use of the funds earlier.

"We don't want this to be a deterrent to the revenue streams of local governments," said Peterson, indicating he would draft the legislation to prevent a loss of funds. "Local taxing districts, like schools and libraries, could even benefit when taxpayers pay the entire sum because they will have the money at their disposal to invest or spend earlier than anticipated. This legislation will give taxpayers incentive to pay the entire bill at once."

Testifying at the hearing were Lake County Treasurer Bob Skidmore, the Illinois County Clerk Association, School District 96 in Kildeer, Elementary School District 15 in McHenry, Mortgage Bankers Association, Downers Grove School District and First American Real Estate Services.

The groups offered feedback on the plan, urging that any legislation not lower the amount of funds for school districts. Concerns were also raised about varying procedures in Illinois counties and that counties may have to purchase additional computer equipment to administer the discount.

Peterson said he would proceed, taking into account the concerns and issues raised at the hearing as legislation is drafted. He anticipates another public hearing on the topic before any legislation is introduced in the Senate.

through years of experience in youth development, as well as years of developing a thorough knowledge of the community and its organizations.

"I had a network already established," he noted.

McCammon began his career with a 10-year stint in the U.S. Navy, working in human resources.

"The Navy dropped me off in Lake County in 1975, and I found my way to the Lake County Forest Preserve," he recalled.

He spent 26 years with the forest preserve, and for 24 of them, was involved with the YCC. "For the last 10 years I was there, I managed the summer program at the forest preserve in addition to my other duties," he said.

He was also responsible for managing the forest preserve's fleet operations, with $2 million worth of rolling stock, as well as managing a housing program, overseeing 30 houses on forest preserve property.

Additionally, the new director has been teaching human resources and management courses at the College of Lake County.

"The youth corps is just an extension of what I love," he said. "I love the potential of young people."

McCammon's educational background includes an undergraduate degree in behavioral science from the National College of Education (now known as Lewis National University), a teacher's college in Evanston, and a masters degree in public administration from Roosevelt University.

Originally raised in southern Indiana, McCammon has been a resident of Lake Villa for the past 14 years.

"We live a block-and-a-half away from where my wife, Susanne, was raised," he said.

The couple's blended family includes offspring Mark, 29, Jessica, 21, Joshua, 19, and Carly, 12. The two eldest children each have a child of their own.

Not one to let grass grow under his feet, the new director already has plans for the future of the YCC.

"By the end of next year, I want 20 corps members in the year-round program, working on life skills and getting their GEDs," he said. The new program, which reaches out to disadvantaged young adults, aged 18-21, began this July with five members.

"My five-year plan is to have an organization well-supported with diverse funding, and working with 30 youths in the year-round program," he continued.

"I also want to spread out the YCC summer program to other park districts and grassroots environmental agencies within Lake County," McCammon stated.

"My 10-year plan is to convince the Illinois State legislature that statewide corps programs might help more youth in the state," he added. McCammon envisions a wider-scale program, similar to those in force in California, Ohio and Wisconsin.

The YCC, which has its historical roots in the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's "New Deal," began as a federally funded summer program for young people.

In 1981, when government funding disappeared under the Reagan administration, the YCC was established as an advisory committee for the Lake County Forest Preserve.

While under federal auspices, the youth corps had been able to accommodate up to 30 corps members, in its first years as YCC, Inc., the organization was able to raise funds to support only nine corps members in a summer program.

The two existing programs serve somewhat different needs.

The summer program participants work on various projects in the Forest Preserve. This summer, the group built boardwalks at the Middle fork Savannah, near Lake Forest, and planted 41,000 prairie plants at the Rollins Savannah, near Round Lake Beach. The corps also laid woodchip trails in Lake Villa Township's Grant and McDonald Woods, and built a small bridge at Duck Farm in Lindenhurst.

"In eight weeks, the corps completed over 60 projects at 13 sites in the county," McCammon said.

Additionally, the corps members, aged 16-18, experienced 40 hours of environmental education, recreation and team building.

"They (corps members) went camping and canoeing at Van Patten Woods and Cedar Lake," the new director said. "For some of them, it was the first time they'd ever been camping in their lives."

The summer program draws participants from dissimilar groups, putting North Chicago youth side-by-side with college-bound students from Lake Forest.

According to McCammon, the underprivileged youths learn to raise their sights, as their peers from more affluent communities learn to respect and appreciate diversity.

The new year-round program strives to give disadvantaged youth, whom McCammon calls "the forgotten work force," a leg up in developing basic life skills, including obtaining a driver's license, earning a G.E.D., registering to vote, and preparing for better employment opportunities.

*Gail Leider
gourd artist*

Great gourd almighty!

By HELEN MANSFIELD
Staff Reporter

The days are beginning to get shorter and there is a slight chill in the air. Before you know it, Indian Summer will be upon us and our thoughts will turn to Halloween, Indian corn, pumpkins, gourds...

Okay, maybe you're not thinking about gourds, but you should be. Ancient civilizations revered the gourd and looked at the roundish fruit as the origin of creation, with the seeds inside representing man.

Left, one of Gail Leider's finished works, gourds similar to these will be for sale at the Festival of Gourds. Above, Gail K. Leider, of Grayslake, tries to "think outside of the gourd." The gourd artist will be one of three Lake County artisans who will have works for sale at the first annual Festival of Gourds in Glencoe.—Photos by Helen Mansfield.

If you haven't had a religious gourd epiphany, this weekend, Lake County will offer you the perfect opportunity to get in touch with your "inner gourd" at the first state Festival of Gourds on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 8-9, at the Chicago Boating Garden in Glencoe.

According to Gail K. Leider, a member of the Illinois Gourd Society and gourd artist, the event will be reminiscent of the old "Goddess of the Gourd Festival" that used to take place in Grayslake.

A resident of Grayslake herself, Leider stumbled into the world of gourd art by accident.

"I used to do watercolors and back in '95, I had a friend who was headed to Atlanta because she saw an ad in the paper about gourds," she said.

Having grown up in Wisconsin, Leider was only familiar with the small variety of gourds which she had often seen painted or made into birdhouses.

Before she knew it, Leider and her friend headed to Georgia with her husband's pick-up truck and filled the bed with kettle gourds for 75 cents a piece.

Down in Helena, Ga., the ladies heard about a gourd museum and, after receiving some wild directions from the locals, they found the museum property with gourd scarecrows stationed outside.

"After the museum, I had so many ideas," she said. "My mind went wild."

There are thousands of gourd varieties including the apple, dipper, martin house, kettle, bottle and Mexican bottle and even larger ones, the cannonball and bushel basket.

Leider's work started simply, just by painting the gourds, and progressing to cutting them.

Shortly thereafter, she developed what she refers to as "gourd elbow," tendinitis and carpal tunnel syndrome.

"I love them," Leider said. "They look like bubbles and the gourd will always tell you what it

SPECIAL EVENT

Stories told the old-fashioned way—on the front porch

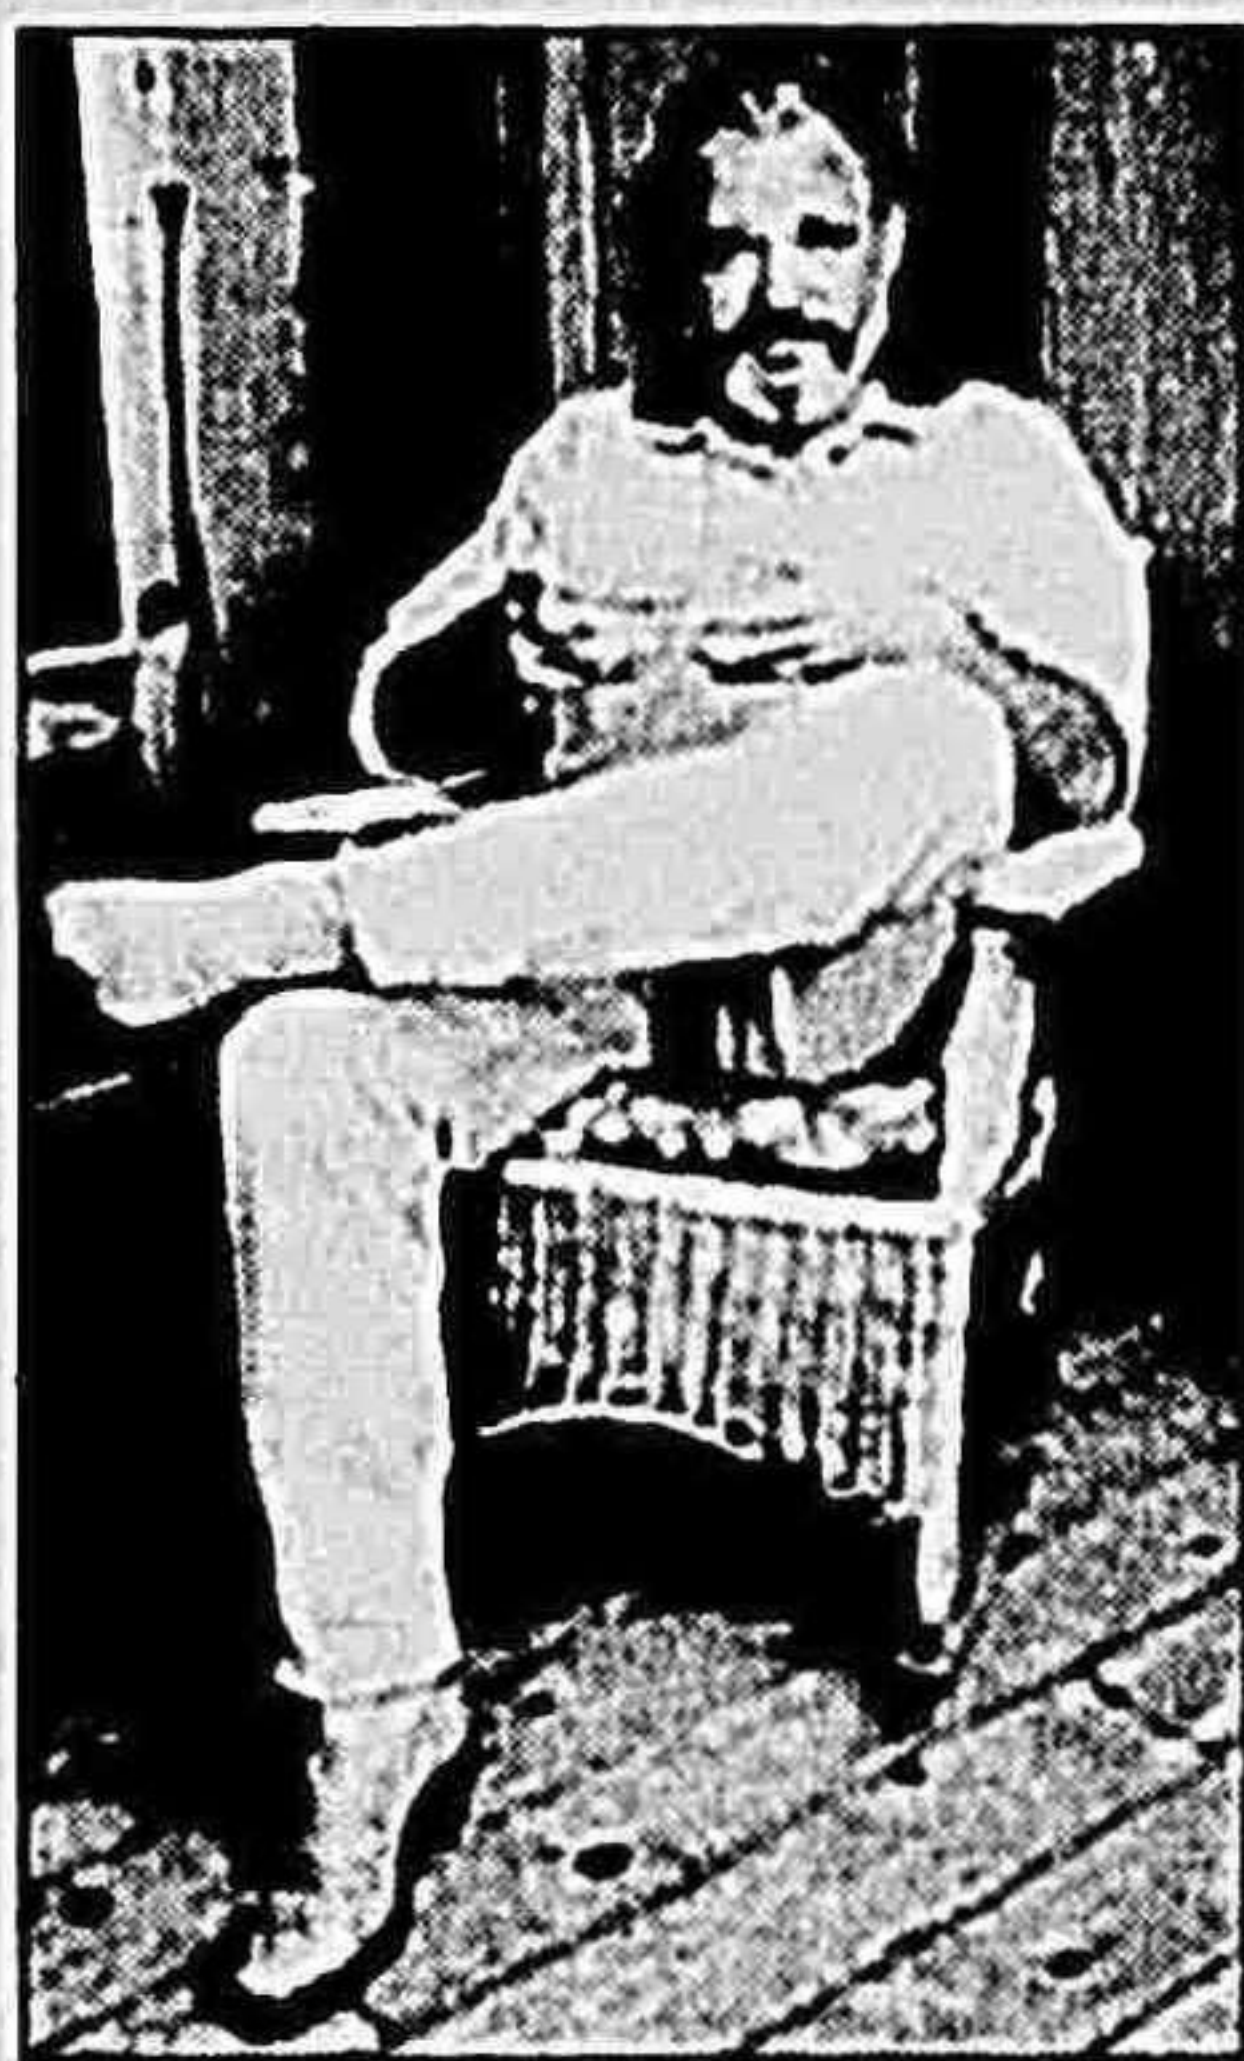

On Sunday, Sept. 9, from 1 - 5 p.m., Grayslake's environmental community, Prairie Crossing, will once again present Front Porch Stories, and afternoon of storytelling for the entire family. Stories will be told on some of Prairie Crossing beautiful front porches allowing listeners to relive a time when generations grew up listening to families recounting humorous anecdotes and life's passages to the squeaking of rocking chairs and the clicking on lemonade glasses. Stories will also be told in the century-old, Byron Colby Barn.

This year's line up of featured storytellers include: Emmy award-winning storyteller, Jim May, author of "The Farm On Nippersink Creek," a collection of stories about growing in the Chain-O-Lakes area of McHenry and Lake Counties; Missouri Ozark-born and raised, Beth Horner, a former librarian who has, for some 20 years, traveled the United States with her stories that include humor, music and the importance of family roots; and Bob Sander, Indiana's most accomplished storyteller, who combines virtuosity on several musical instruments with stories of side-splitting hilarity.

Rounding out the professional stages will be storytellers Donna Dettman, Oba William King and Ralph Smith, all of the Chicagoland area. "Memory Makers," a local storytelling club of retired people, will tell stories of their experiences on one of the porches, as well.

Prairie Crossing is a community of homes inspired by early Midwest homesteads and built upon 350 acres of prairies, pastures, marshes and lakes. The founding principles include care for the environment, economic and racial diversity, and life-long learning and education. Front Porch Storytelling is produced by Illinois Storytelling, Inc. and sponsored by Liberty Prairie Foundation and Prairie Crossing.

Admission is $8 at the door and children 15 and under are free. For more information call 815-344-0181 or visit the web site at www.storytelling.org.

Jim May, author and storyteller, will be one of the story-tellers featured at "Front Porch Stories." Prairie Crossing will present the program on Sunday, Sept. 9 from 1-5 p.m.

DANCE

New classes

The Buoy and Belles Square Dance Club of Waukegan will be holding a new class for Mainstream Modern Square Dancers. The class is open to anyone 14 years or older and is run by Lin Jarvis. Beginner classes counsel on behavior problems such as housebreaking and jumping. Dogs also practice basic obedience commands. Intermediate classes move to a more advanced level. A basic obedience class is a pre-requisite for intermediate class registration. Dogs must be at least four months old and have received required vaccinations. For more information, call 291-2980.

Bridge classes reconvene

Long-time bridge instructor Ginny Schuett will resume teaching classes and holding drop-in bridge sessions at Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Rd. in Lake Forest.

"Refresher Bridge" will be held on Mondays, Sept. 10-Oct. 29 (no class Oct. 22) from 1-3 p.m. The fee is $90 and pre-registration is required. The class is designed to improve bidding and declarer play. "Beginning Bridge" will be offered Tuesdays, Sept. 11-Nov. 6 (no class Oct. 23) from 1-3 p.m. with a $100 fee. Advance registration is required for this class, which is aimed at those who have never played bridge before.

Ginny's drop-in game, "Bridge Plus," will take place on Wednesdays, Sept. 12, Oct. 10, Nov. 14 and/or Dec. 12 from 12:30-3:30 p.m. The cost is $5 per session, payable at the door.

Interested participants must register and pay in advance for the Monday and Tuesday courses. For information, call 234-6060.

WORKSHOPS

Home buyer workshop

Meet the experts, an attorney, home inspector, loan officer and realtor, at a home buyer workshop Saturday, Sept. 8 from 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. at Lake Forest High School, 1285 Forest High School in Lake Forest. Have questions answered, from the legal terms to available mortgage programs, to how to qualify for a loan. Information booklets will be distributed. The instructor will be broker Florence Emiling. Registration is required and there is a $25 fee.

For information, contact Lake Forest High School Community Education at 234-3600 ext. 7306.

Gardening seminars

Half-day and full-day seminars will be offered at Craig Bergmann's Country Garden in Winthrop Harbor. Gardening professionals from around the country will give presentations throughout the month of September.

The next presentation will be Prairie-Style Landscape Design by Scott Mehauffey, landscape architect with the Morton Arboretum on Friday, Sept. 14. There are two times available, 10-11:30 a.m. or 1-2:30 p.m.

All seminars are held in the Tea House at Craig Bergmann's Country Garden, 700 Kenosha Rd. Advance registration is required and seating is limited. For more information, call 746-0311.

ANTIQUES

Antique show

Quality Midwest antiques dealers will present collector's items and heirlooms at the 34th Annual Lake Forest Infant Welfare Antiques Show in the Field at Conway Farms on Rte. 60 in Lake Forest. A special "Treasures Tent" will feature antiques and collectibles from several Lake Forest estates. Children's activities and refreshments make this a great destination for everyone. Free parking is available. Admission is $6, with children under 12 free. Call 234-2775 for information.

McHenry County holds show

The Adult and Child Rehab Center will be sponsoring its 19th Annual McHenry County Antique show Saturday, Sept. 8 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 9 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Admission is $6. The indoor show is held at the McHenry County Fair Grounds on Rte. 47 at Country Club Rd. in Historic Woodstock.

More than 50 carefully screened antique dealers from around the Midwest will be present to show and sell antiques including such items as furniture, art, toys, glass, household items, and rugs.

Concessions will be available and include home made baked goods, with lunch items provided by Swiss Maid Bakery. All proceeds from the Show benefit the Adult and Child Rehab Center of McHenry County. The Rehab Center provides therapy services and home health care for disabled people. Please call 815-338-1707 for more information.

BENEFIT

Hooved animal benefit

The Hooved Animal Humane Society will host its 12th Annual Picnic and Equine Extravaganza on Sept. 15 from 11 a.m.-4 p.m.

There will be door prizes and lots of family fun including hayrides, apple bobbing, games for the kids, a hay maze, donkeys, goats and sheep for petting. See surprise equine entertainment and "Inside-Out" trainer Denise Lesnik.

HAHS is located at 10804 McConnell Rd. in Woodstock. Tickets are available in advance, with a country-style lunch provided for an additional cost, or at the door. Free admission for children 12 and under.

For additional information, call 815-337-5563.

Grandparents advised to poison-proof their homes

With the approach of national Grandparent's Day on Sept. 9, grandparents are advised to spend a few moments checking their homes to ensure common poison hazards such as medications and household cleaners are kept out of the sight and reach of grandchildren and other young visitors. Taking a few steps to poison-proof your home will help to make it a safer place for youngsters.

Last year, the Illinois Poison Center (IPC), which offers free poison prevention and treatment advice via a statewide hot line 800-942-5969, handled 67,776 poisoning cases, more than half of which involved children under age six. According to Tony Burda, chief poison specialist of the IPC, household cleaners, pain medicines and cosmetics/personal care products continue to be the most common causes of poisoning exposures, accounting for about 30 percent of the cases.

"Everyday items, such as the contents of a purse or medications kept in a nightstand drawer, can be poisonous," said Burda.

Medications: To a curious toddler, almost everything can look and smell good enough to eat. It is especially important to keep medications, which young children often mistake for candy, out of their sight and reach. Burda recommends that grandparents follow safety tips:

- Avoid taking medications of front of children, because they like to copy adult's action
- Keep medications in their original containers and store them in locked cabinets
- Do not place medications out in the counter or on a windowsill
- Use child-resistant containers for medications carried on your purse (daily pill counters are not child-resistant and they also should be kept out of children's reach)
- Dispose of old or unused medications by flushing them down the toilet; rinse out containers before throwing them away
- Post an IPC phone sticker (available free by calling the IPC) on or near the telephones

Household Cleaners: To protect grandchildren from an accidental exposure to a household cleaners, all cleaning products should be kept in their original containers with original labels and they should be stored out of sight, in locked cabinets. Never leave a cleaning product open.

Burda recommends that grandparents keep a bottle of both, syrup of ipecac and activated charcoal for each grandchild in the home. Syrup of ipecac is used to induce vomiting, while activated charcoal binds with the poison, allowing the body to eliminate it naturally. Different toxins require different treatments, however, so never use either product without first calling the IPC or a doctor.

The IPC is the only certified, regional poison center in the state, serving all of Illinois 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Staffed by physicians, nurses, pharmacists and other poison specialists, the IPC welcomes calls from the public and health care professionals on the treatment of overdoses, alcohol or drug misuse, medication problems, occupational exposures, bites and other poison-related concerns.

For information on how to poison-proof your home and obtain free IPC phone stickers, contact the IPC at 800-942-5969, or visit the IPC web site at www.mchc.org/ipc.

Register now for Improv Playhouse

The Improv Playhouse, formerly associated with Players Workshop of Second City-Chicago, is registering for autumn sessions in Libertyville, Northbrook, Buffalo Grove and Highland Park. Age appropriate classes in fundamental to advanced improvisation, beginning acting and complimentary dramatic arts classes are offered to youth through adults.

These classes develop many important skills including communication, creativity, and self-assurance on stage and in front of others, team building, public speaking and personal success. Arts professionals instruct workshops and master classes.

High school students are offered a two-level, seven-week Introduction to Theatresports, an improv comedy team-style competitive format, in Libertyville and at the North Shore location, the Highland Park Community House. These seven-week workshops, meeting once per week beginning in mid-September, will emphasize the fundamentals of improvisation with a focus upon team building skills and a repertoire of theatre games designed to produce performance skills.

A Beginning Story Theatre Workshop and Improv/Theatre Games Workshops for Junior High students will begin in mid-September at the Highland Park Community House. The seven-week workshops will emphasize the foundations of Story Theatre for the beginning actor and creative communicator. The class will focus on blocking, vocal direction, movement, concentration and acting in the Story Theatre form. Improvisation and Theater Games will focus upon self-assurance, team building, spontaneous creativity and improv comedy skills.

The Improv Playhouse is presently taking fall registration. For more information. Please call 847-968-4529.

Western trio rides into town

The Western singing trio, Riders in the Sky, will be presented in concert on Saturday, Sept. 15 at the Woodstock Opera House, 121 Van Buren St. in Woodstock.

Known as Nashville's favorite singing singing cowboys, The Riders—"Ranger" Doug Green, Dr. "Woody" Paul Chrisman, and Fred "Too Slim" LaBour—look as though they have stepped right out of a 30s or 40s Republic Pictures movie. Wearing fringed shirts, custom creased hats and high-heeled boots, The Riders specialize in the musical genre of the western cowboy song, and their repertoire includes traditional cowboy folk songs, old-time fiddle pieces, hot instrumental jazz numbers, yodel showcases, plus some original songs and off-beat, campy comedy material.

Riders in the Sky have been performing together for 24 years. They have recorded 19 albums, are members of the Grand Ole Opry, have been hosting their weekly "Riders Radio Theater" program on National Public Radio since 1988 and are about to begin their seventh season of "Riders Radio Theater: The Television Show" on TNN. They performed the theme song, "Woody's Roundup" in "Toy Story 2." The trio won "Best Musical Album for Children" for "Woody's Roundup" featuring Riders in the Sky" on Walt Disney Records.

Show times are at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. Tickets are $17 and can be purchased by calling 815-338-5300.

Symphony season to open

The Lake Forest Symphony, under the direction of Alan Heatherington, will open its 45th season on Thursday, Sept. 14 and Friday, Sept. 15 with an all Beethoven concert. In addition to the Coriolan Overture and Symphony No. 6, Pastoral, the program will feature guest artist, pianist Jorge Federico Osorio, playing Piano Concerto No. 5, Emperor.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. at the Drake Theater on the Barat College campus in Lake Forest.

The season will continue on Nov. 2 and 3 with an American Evening and music of Copland, Hanson and Lake Forest native Eric Hachikian.

January brings French music to the concert hall with feature duo-pianists Stephen and Frieda Manes. March features soprano Jonita Lattimore and May 31 and June 1 bring Russian music and two gifted young artists, violinist Jennifer Frautschi and pianist Lukas Vondracek, piano.

Single concert tickets are $20, $30 and $40. Series subscription is available for $100, $135 and $175. Call 295-2135 for tickets or more information.

Fine art on display at Ela Festival of Arts

Second-generation metal sculptor Sean Burgess of Palatine is inspired by nature to create decorative pieces and garden art that depicts the prehistoric to the whimsical. His copper frogs can be sitting at a bus stop or reading a newspaper, and his flowing fish can be perched atop a piece of real coral.

Ever sensitive to environmental issues, Burgess assures that while the coral is authentic, he purchased it from the U.S. Coast Guard, who confiscated it from a unscrupulous harvester looking to profit while destroying the protected reefs in Florida.

"All my shapes are organic," Burgess says, even the more abstract ones suspended in mobiles or his trees of life. "They're an evolutionary display of nature."

Burgess will be among the 36 fine artists whose works were juried for the Ela Festival of Arts on Saturday, Sept. 8, at Paulus Park on Rte. 12 in Lake Zurich. Show hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Admission is $4 for adults, $2 for students and children under five are admitted free.

Bonnie Kondor of Lake Forest, who also will be part of the show featuring fiber art, jewelry, painting, photography and ceramics, pursues her love of art in a totally different way. She takes an easily recognizable work by such renowned artists Grant Wood, Vincent van Gogh and Claude Monet and turns a portion of it that catches her eye into a pin or pendant. Interesting patterns in foil or wrapping paper also can become wearable art bedecked with beads and baubles.

A former art teacher for 34 years on the Chicago Public Schools, Kondor finds gratifying reactions to her work at shows. "I'm honoring the piece of fine art, not disrespecting it. I've had 8-year-olds say, 'We studied that in school.' It reinforces the art history they're learning and gets conversations going," she says.

Visitors to the art area of the festival will get a chance to win a gift certificate toward the purchase of art by voting for their choice of best artist. Two winners of $100 certificates will be drawn from among those casting ballots.

The fine art exhibit is only one of many celebrations of the arts at the Ela Festival, sponsored by Cultural Arts Connection, a non-profit organization dedicated to fostering the arts and building community spirit. There will be musical, dance and theatrical performances throughout the day. Featured performers include Latin jazz percussionist Alejo Poveda and Chevere, pop music quartet Emotional Shock and Ralph Cover's "Ralph's World" of family-oriented stories and songs.

A special focus will be on activities for children with the Child's Play Touring Theater and Actor's Gymnasium offering mini lessons in stage combat, make-up, stilt-walking, storytelling and mime. Juggling workshops will teach that skill, bidding artists can create in the art area, and to fulfill every child's dream, there will be exotic drums and percussion instruments to bang on and play with musical instruction.

The Ela Festival of Arts will feature 36 artists on Saturday, Sept. 8 at Paulus Park in Lake Zurich.

Favreau and Vaughn have it 'made' again

Well, they aren't the Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis of a new generation, but comic duo Jon Favreau and Vince Vaughn do have a buddy rapport that rivals some of the great comic teams of their day.

In their second acting collaboration, Favreau and Vaughn star in Favreau's directorial debut, "Made."

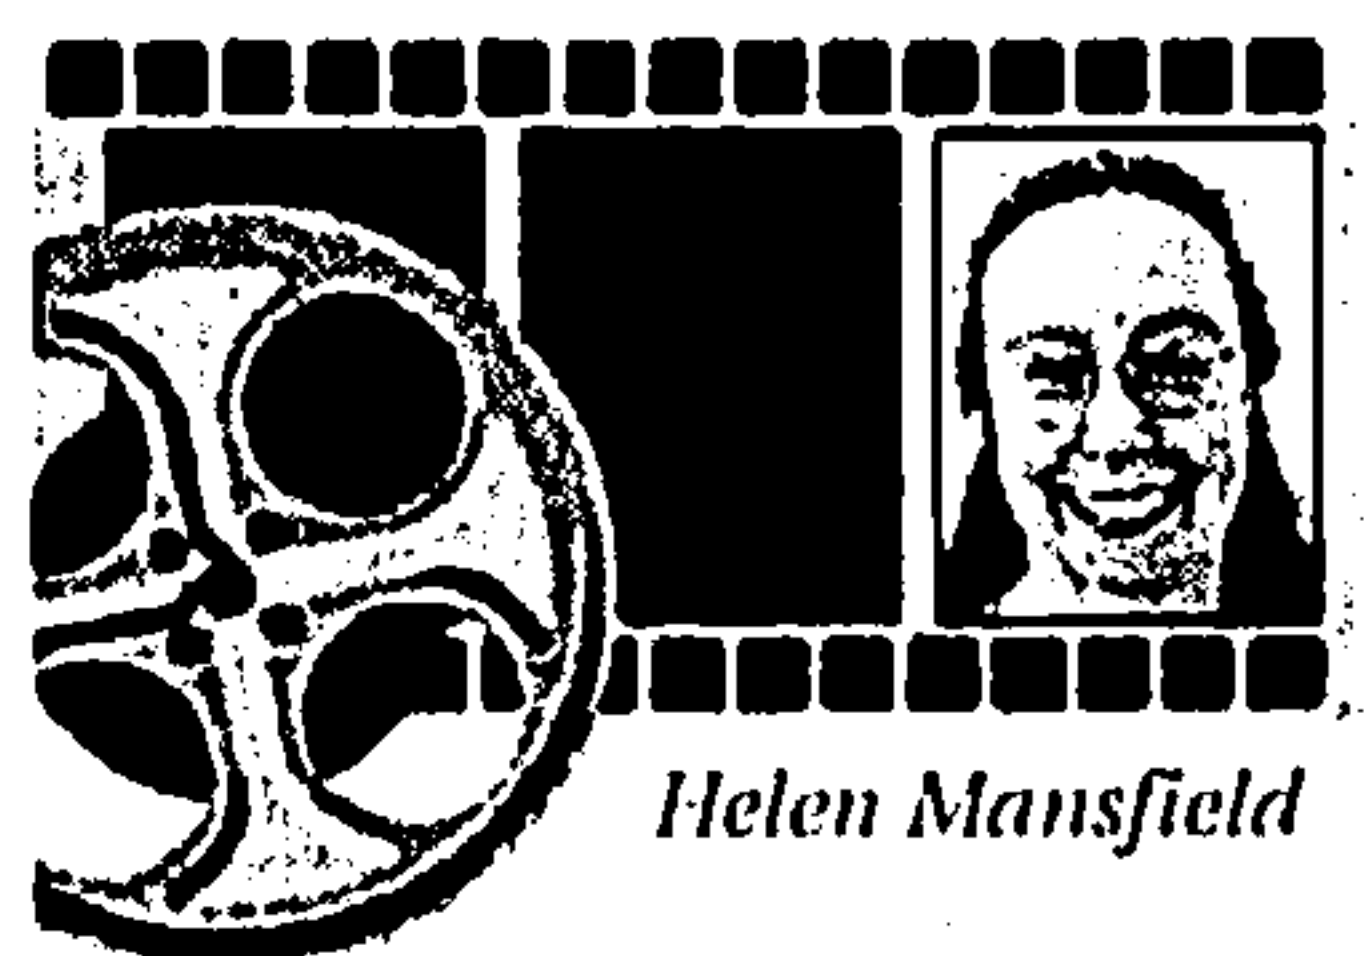

The sleeper hit, also starring Famke Janssen, Peter Falk and, in his first starring role, rapper Sean "P Diddy" Combs, is in limited release around the country.

Due to bad reviews, it is probably going to stay that way.

The duo set the bar rather high after their previous independent hit "Swingers," but instead of sticking with topics he is more familiar, the love-life of a struggling comedian in Los Angeles, screenwriter Favreau takes on the seamy underbelly of people working connections with low-level mobsters in L.A.

The story is about two boyhood friends, an aspiring boxer named Bobby (Favreau) and his bungling pal Ricky (Vaughn). The two work for a mobster boss, played by Falk, and while Bobby is content to earn his nut by listening to "the Boss," Ricky isn't happy at their slow journey to the top of the ladder of connections.

By day, the pair work as contractors for the Boss, but Ricky even complains about his cushy job as a sweeper. He literally sweeps, pushing a broom gathering up construction debris after the tradesmen come through.

The Boss taps Bobby to handle a job for him in New York and, against his better judgment, lets Ricky go along for the ride.

One of the funniest scenes is when the two are seated in front of the Boss' desk where he gives them an envelope and begins to give them their instructions. Without waiting, Ricky opens the envelope only to hear the Boss say in the next beat "do not open your envelopes here."

Inside, they find a pager and their "per diem money" for their trip. Ricky tells the Boss he understands the instructions thus far, but wants to know who the money is for.

Vaughn does such a convincing job as a bungling, hipster, gangster wanna-be, that you will leave the theater with a splitting headache. You want to scream at the screen "shut up you cry baby," but all you can do is laugh at his stupidity and utter cluelessness.

Favreau, much like in "Swingers," comes off as an upstanding, huggable sweetheart. He tries to take care of his business and be a compassionate friend. The scenes between him and his girl-friend's daughter Chloe (played by Makenzie Vega) will melt your heart.

If you are a fan of Favreau and Vaughn's work, it will take some doing to see this film, as I believe it is only playing at Sony's Piper's Alley in Chicago, but it's so "money," it's worth it.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

A friendly conversation ends up causing you a lot of problems late in the week, Aries. Someone misinterprets your words and gets angry. Remain calm, and try to explain what you mean. While things will be tense for a while, everything will work out in the end. An old friend has a surprise for you. Enjoy it!

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Control your temper early in the week. A business associate is trying to bait you into an argument. Don't fall for it. Just keep your mind on what you have to do, and ignore him or her. That special someone gets called out of town. While you miss him or her, don't keep calling. He or she has important things to take care of.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

You have a relaxing week ahead of you, Gemini. Enjoy it. Pamper yourself, and splurge a little. Now is the time to do it, because things will get hectic very soon. A close friend has a question for you. While you may not want to answer it, you must. Just be honest, and everything will be OK.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Keep your shoulder to the wheel this week, Cancer. You have a lot to do and very little time to do it all. People are counting on you. So, don't get distracted by those around you. Loved ones have a favor to ask you. While it will be difficult, you have to say no. They're not telling you everything about their plan.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Don't hold a grudge against a close friend. He or she doesn't mean to cause you any problems. Accept his or her apology. A loved one needs romantic advice. While it's not your favorite topic to discuss with him or her, be supportive and helpful. Virgo plays an important role late in the week.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Accept only the best this week, Virgo. An acquaintance tries to pull a fast one on you. Don't let him or her get away with it. That special someone has a romantic evening planned for the two of you. Enjoy it now, because things will be hectic for both of you very soon.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Your working environment gets tense late in the week. Don't despair. Listen to what those around you have to say, and try to figure out what's going on. With a calm head, you can help things get back to normal. A friend takes you out on Friday. Enjoy!

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't wear your heart on your sleeve this week, Scorpio. The person to whom you're attracted finally responds to your advances, but don't seem too happy or eager. This is sure to scare him or her off. A loved one needs your help with a family problem. Be supportive.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

A disagreement with a friend throws you off track early in the week. Try to stay focused on all that you have to do; don't keep thinking about the fight. The two of you will work things out before the week is through. That special someone drops by unexpectedly. He or she needs a shoulder to cry on. Be supportive.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't be shy when you meet an important business figure early in the week. Get yourself noticed, and try to speak with him or her. This is the perfect opportunity to advance your career. A close friend shares a secret with you. Keep it to yourself. Pisces plays a key role on Thursday.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

You have your freedom this week, Aquarius, and you couldn't be happier. Spend time doing what you want to do, not what others tell you to do. This is your chance to focus on yourself. A loved one gives you a family heirloom. Let him or her know how much you appreciate it.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Laugh at everything that goes wrong early in the week. If you don't, you just may have to scream — that would only cause more problems. Do what you can to simplify your situation. Don't get discouraged, because things will get better soon.

wants to be."

Leider belongs to five gourd societies and receives all the latest items of interest from their newsletters.

In California, Leider said gourds have risen beyond their common "crafty" status to high art.

"In California, it's an accepted art form and works can sell for thousands of dollars," she said.

Leider has been trying her hand at instruments after attending a workshop which encourages her to "think outside of the gourd."

The old "Goddess Gourd Festival" in Grayslake used to be a yearly event at Colby Barn, but stopped in 1999 when Chicago organizer Joan Reese had to give up gourd work and work a regular job full time.

Leider said the Glencoe show will be similar, "only bigger."

A number of "goddess veterans" will be in Glencoe, including "Gourdella," Carolyn Finzer, who tells gourd tales.

The only fee for the festival the $7 parking cost at the Botanic Garden.

Wauconda Julia Tudor has been trying her hand at gourd art for two years. A year prior to that, she grew and dried them.

She worked with a group at Prairie Crossing which had a gourd garden and "had a very positive experience with gourds."

"I'm planning to have a line of gourd masks at the state show," she said. "I was born on Halloween, so I really like them."

Tudor said she finds gourd to be fascinating plants, every bit as "hungry" as the magical bean plants in the story of "Jack and the Beanstalk."

"They need lots of fertilizer to grow and they have to be cross-pollinated if the bees don't do their job," she said.

Tudor said historically gourds were the first plants ever cultivated and they have been found on every continent on Earth. Their importance has been evident as gourds have been found throughout ancient societies.

Some people still don't get it though.

"A lot of people, including members of my family, bless their heart, just don't understand it," she said.

Beside the state festival, Tudor will also show her work at the Crystal Lake Harvest Festival on Thursday, Oct. 6.

"The (Botanic) Gardens is the perfect place," said Leider. "We hope it will get bigger and better so all of us can make a living."

North Central line going high tech

High tech rail commuting that will be a model for the nation is on the way.

As the result of a full funding federal initiative, $23 million will be available for upgrading Metra's North Central line, including adding a second mainline track along 12 miles of the 53-mile line.

Officials said the improvement will be a big benefit for Antioch, Lake Villa, Grayslake, Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Prairie View and Buffalo Grove.

Scheduled improvements include track and signal upgrades, construction of five new stations, parking, rail yard expansion and purchase of one new diesel locomotive and eight bi-level passenger cars.

Full funding for the Dept. of Transportation program (DOT) was pushed by Congressman Mark Kirk (R-IL) and House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

Breaking a DOT log jam rested on three factors: Metra is the strongest transit agency in the country, current projects offer few engineering difficulties, and Metra offers the most promise for increased riders.

By pushing for a full funding agreement, Kirk said the 60-day review period will be completed while Congress still is in session. "That making funding approval possible before next year," Kirk asserted.

Metra also is in line for funding for South West Service improvements, $19 million, and West Line, $20 million.

The 60-day period is up Oct. 28, the date anticipated for Congressional appropriation action.

Realtors to honor Richard J. Brown

Richard J. Brown, founder of Cambridge Homes and a nationally known builder, is being inducted into the Chicago Assn. of Realtors Hall of Fame.

The induction will take place Tuesday, Sept. 11, in ceremonies at Chicago Hilton and Towers.

Brown, regarded in the industry as a legend, also is known in Lake County as a civic leader, supporter of many charities, and an outstanding businessman.

He is a resident of Libertyville, which also is homebase of Cambridge Homes, which he founded more than three decades ago. Brown is credited with building nearly 30,000 homes and developing more than 100 communities in northeastern Illinois beginning in the 1960s.

The Realtors also will induct J. Paul Beitler, president, the Beitler Company, at the Sept. 11 program and honor Jim Kinney, president of Rubloff, as 2001 Realtor of the Year. New directors also will be installed.

Brown's background in mechanical engineering, marketing and promotions gave him a unique perspective on quality building techniques, and he began to formulate concepts of how home building should be done. He formed his own company in the early 1960s, and changed the face of post-war suburban home-building by being a pioneer in many areas.

Cambridge Homes was the first to offer buyers a variety of styles and designs; he created the first full-amenity active adult community with recreational facilities; plus he has been bestowed "Global Re-leaf" awards by The National Assn. of Home builders and American Forests, for building in harmony with the environment. Brown pioneered master planned communities featuring various neighborhoods with different housing types, an approach that not only enables residents to stay in the community by moving up into a larger home or downsizing, a concept that has been applauded by community officials. In all that he does, his developments provide the best possible quality of living and investment for every buyer, from first-time homeowners to luxury properties.

Brown has been recognized for decades of his service to the organized home-building and real estate industries. He started the Sales and Marketing Council of the Home Builders Assn. of Greater Chicago back in the 1960s, has been bestowed the Urban Land Institute-Chicago District Council's Lifetime Achievement Award, has served as president of both the Home Builders Assns. of Chicago and Illinois, and is a Lifetime Director of the National Home Builders Associations. His extensive participation on the local, state and national levels have earned him top honors such as Midwest Homebuilder Magazine's "Builder of the Decade."

He has numerous charitable and civic accomplishments. As a past chairman of the Urban Planning Advisory Commission of the Village of Libertyville, he was instrumental in transforming downtown Libertyville into a vital, thriving area. He is a member of the board of directors of the Lake Forest Symphony. He also has served as a member of the Development Advisory Board of Carmel High school, and provides scholarships to students annually.

Robust staffing activity ahead for Lake County

A spirited hiring season is in store for the Lake County area this fall. That finding is based on the latest poll of workforce plans among employers for the final months of the year, conducted quarterly by Manpower Inc.

Charles Bartels of Manpower said, "The Employment Outlook Survey results reveal that 47 percent of companies contacted are inclined to hire more people for the October-December period while 17 percent are preparing for fewer personnel. The remaining 36 percent will maintain current staffing levels."

Bartels added that for the 200 year-end survey job prospects were bright, when 30 percent anticipated adding workers and 3 percent intended to cut back. The employment scene was active three months ago, as 33 percent issued recruitment plans and 7 percent reported reductions were in order.

In the fourth quarter, employment opportunities are expected in construction, transportation/public utilities and education. The outlook is mixed in durable and non-durable goods manufacturing, wholesale/retail trade and services.

Across the nation, employment is expected to remain near historically low levels as 24 percent plan further hiring, 11 percent expect staffing declines, 60 percent anticipate no change and 5 percent are uncertain. In the final quarter of last year, 32 percent said they would increase staff, only 7 percent projected reductions, 57 percent foresaw no change and 4 percent were undecided.

Who pays the price?

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Property owners have paid millions in special taxes and legal fees on all sides are mounting. If damages are awarded to the plaintiffs, taxpayers will foot the bill one way or another.

It's said that the road to hell is paved with good intention. Residents of the county, particularly those in Antioch, are forced to live along that hellish corridor and stand to pay a big price over the one easement that is blocking the completion of the Northeast Lake Facilities Planning Area Special Service Area (NEFPA SSA).

Property owners in Antioch's East-Sub Area, generally located between Deep Lake Rd. and Rte. 45 bordered by Lindenhurst and Wisconsin, entered into an agreement in 1994 with Lake County in good faith that sewer would be provided to their property by the NEFPA SSA, and have collectively paid over $2 million in special taxes for the system with another annual payment due in September. The collection system necessary to bring waste in this area to the interceptor on the east side Rte. 45 is not in place. Lake County, the Village of Antioch, property owners and developers are locked in a court battle of "intention" versus legal obligation.

East Sub-Area Timeline

Mid '80s - This period is referred to by some as the "Days of Rage." The Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. would use eminent domain to condemn and then acquire property including 100 acres in Libertyville that had been in Helen Casey's family for over 125 years.

January 1989 - Landowners in "targeted areas" pled with members of the Land Acquisition Committee of the Lake County Forest Preserve District, asking that their homes or farms be spared.

February 1989 - An "emergency" meeting was scheduled to designate for acquisition 2,550 acres of land surrounding Red Wing Marsh and Deer Lake. The meeting was reported to have been given emergency status because the Village of Antioch was to have a meeting the following day to annex most of the property the district sought.

February 1989 - About 1,800 acres annexed to the Village of Antioch including the Homer White property that became the Anest property and the Sprenger property. Aloysius Elfering, Stanley Berkiel, George Murphy, Gary Hicks and Philip King on behalf of the McHenry State Bank also annexed into the village to block action of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

December 1991 - Antioch Comprehensive Plan approved.

July 1992 - The Illinois Department of Conservation pursues acquisition of property surrounding the Redwing Marsh and Deer Lake Slough.

September 1992 - Abbott Labs announced its intention to build a huge office/research complex east of Rte. 45.

September 1992 - The Anests petition to disconnect from Antioch, a settlement agreement was reached and there was no disconnection.

July 1994 - The proposing ordinance for Northeast Lake Facilities Planning Area Special Service Area (NEFPA SSA) was approved by Lake County.

November 1994 - Easement letters sent to Robert Depke from property owners in the special service area.

December 1994 - NEFPA SSA established. Prior to the establishment of this facility planning area, the Village of Antioch had an application before the Northeast Illinois Planning Commission to construct its own new treatment plant.

November 1995 - Agreement for Sanitary Sewer Service to the Antioch Northeast Service Area between Lake County and the Village of Antioch.

September 1996 - First Amendment Agreement for Sanitary Sewer Service to the Antioch Northeast Service Area between Lake County and the Village of Antioch increasing the population equivalents (PEs) from 9,900 to 22,000.

On the surface, the task of getting one easement granted to complete a sewage system that had been proposed and approved about seven years ago would seem simple enough. Such is not the situation in the Antioch area.

Though Lake County initiated the creation of the NEFPA SSA, it is, in effect, hindering its completion by holding back an easement over the former Glick property, currently by its separate but related entity, the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. The result of this action, or inaction, has resulted in several lawsuits brought forth by property owners and developers, as well as the counterclaims that have ensued.

The Forest Preserve Dist., made up of the same representatives as the Lake County Board (though sitting on different committees

'It's an extraordinary act when you take someone's land away from them.'

Colin McRae

and holding separate offices), closed on the purchase of the former Glick property at the beginning of this year. This property is the first situated to the west of the interceptor constructed by the county and stubbed at Rte. 45, and is necessary to link the interceptor with the would-be waste collection system in Antioch's East-Sub Area.

According to Forest Preserve Dist.

President Al Westerman, the Village of Antioch had to make an official request for the easement, an action he said had "just happened." The district may make the decision whether or not to grant the easement on Sept. 14. "This might be done in executive session because of the pending litigation."

Westerman added, "Our engineers were out looking at the impact on the swimming beach. We don't want something that would be a negative impact to the public."

Though a decision by the Forest Preserve Board may be forthcoming, it is unlikely that the tangled web, nearly a decade in the making, will straighten out overnight.

Political sparring match

One of the plaintiffs and property owner Otto Sprenger said, "This is not a legal battle, but a political battle. There was a change in political flavor, and now they (the current board) are going about things without regard to the contracts and agreements we had."

County Board Rep. Judy Martini (R-Antioch), in office since 1994, seeming to agree with Sprenger said, "The issue was approved (for the NEFPA SSA) on the Friday, four days prior to me taking office, by a lame duck board. Both the county and the Village of Antioch are facing the legal ramifications of the defeated pro-growth leaders' previous actions."

Martini and County Board representative turned County Board Chair Suzy Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) took particular offense to an eight-page document released by the Village of Antioch in April 2000 (under former mayor Marilyn Shineflug) that stated the county shares the responsibility for the densities being sought in the East-Sub Area.

Martini was quoted at a village board meeting as having said, "There are blatant omissions in it (the document), and the bottom line is the development is occurring in the municipality."

Schmidt added, "I don't know why the village did this (in reference to the document)." She also said developers often go to villages rather than to the county because they can build at higher densities.

The "Days of Rage"

At that same board meeting, Martini mentioned that the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. had attempted, but failed, to purchase about 2,500 acres of land in the area discussed. What she didn't mention was that it wouldn't have necessarily been a standard real estate transaction where an owner makes a decision to sell, puts the property on the market, entertains bids from interested parties, determines the best deal and eventually sells the property.

The mid to late 1980s were referred to by some as the "Days of Rage." The Forest Preserve Dist. exercised its right of eminent domain to condemn properties, if necessary, to acquire them.

One notorious case was that of Helen Casey of Libertyville. The Forest Preserve Dist. reportedly "took" 100 acres of the farm that had been in Casey's family for over 125 years. Sprenger said, "They used rather crude methods to purchase this elderly lady's land."

In 1989 Casey was quoted, "My property has been designated without notice. I found out through the newspaper...To target me as one who would allow development is very unfair."

Colin McRae (R-Mundelein) was elected to the County Board in 1990 at the beginning of the end of that era, and served as Forest Preserve president in 1993-94. Of that time period he said, "People were scrambling to annex to municipalities because the Forest Preserves couldn't designate their properties if they were part a municipality. The language in the body of the standard (designation) resolution automatically authorized the power to condemn."

"It's an extraordinary act when you take someone's land away from them. It only took 50 percent plus one to do that. I think the land acquisition board was a board of seven. That means four people could vote to condemn your property."

McRae added, "There were property owners for which there was no (fair) price. The property had been in the family, and they had no interest in selling it, period."

According to Sprenger, it was this atmosphere of mistrust that caused him and several other property owners in the East-Sub Area to annex to the Village of Antioch. "There was a period when landowners, the farmers in particular, became very frightened about how the Forest Preserve was purchasing land."

'I moved here from Switzerland so that what happened to my father wouldn't happen to me. He had a small farm of some of the best property. The government came in and rearranged and redistributed things, and he ended up with some of the worst.'

Galantha testified during his deposition that there was a cooperative agreement between Lake County and the Village of Antioch. He said, 'When asked if we could assist (getting easements), we tried to as we would with any other municipality that we have an agreement with, absolutely.'

East Sub-Area Timeline

July 1997 - Otto Sprenger entered into contract with Deercrest, LLC.

April 1999 - Deercrest development approved by the Village of Antioch.

February 2000 - Agreement among Village of Antioch, Deercrest, Otto Sprenger, Neumann Homes and S & S Properties (Anest) for the purposes of providing water and sewer. This agreement would allow for Deercrest to build a system so the village would not have to put the item on referendum for the issuance of bonds. The village would own and operate the system.

March 2000 - Documents were sent by village engineers Clark Dietz to Kenneth Glick seeking "approval, return and signature" of easement location.

April 2000 - Neumann Homes submits PUD (planned unit development) to the Village of Antioch.

April 2000 - ACRE (Antioch Coalition to Rescue the Environment) formed.

April 2000 - Glick unsuccessfully seeks the annexation of his property to the Village of Antioch.

May 2000 - Doolittle easement procured and filed by Lake County.

June 2000 - Pulie Home Corp. submits PUD on the 91-acre Elfering property located to the west of the Sprenger property.

September 2000 - Suit filed by Deercrest, et al against the Village of Antioch, Lake County and Ken Glick (later amended to the Lake County Forest Preserve).

August 2000 - Attorney Newton Finn sends letter to ACRE regarding his opinion of the legality of the settlement agreement between the Anests and the Village of Antioch.

August 2000 - Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. approves purchase of Glick property.

October 2000 - Application approved for sanitary sewer as proposed through Glick property by Lake County and sent to the Illinois

Environmental Protection Agency.

January 2001 - County closes on the purchase of the Glick property.

January 2001 - Anest/Neumann Homes lawsuit filed against the Village of Antioch.

July 2001 - Lake County filed a counterclaim seeking to be reimbursed by Antioch any "costs, expenses or damages, assessed against the county or incurred by the county." This includes costs of easements, expenses, attorney fees and "further relief."

September 2001 - Neumann Homes joins Deercrest in its lawsuit against the Village of Antioch, Lake County and the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

About eight or nine of us annexed to Antioch, because we didn't want to be subjected to the Forest Preserves tactics (of acquiring land)."

In February 1989 an "emergency" meeting was scheduled by the Forest Preserve Dist. regarding the 2,550 acres of property in Red Wing Marsh and Deer Lake Slough area, because it was discovered that Antioch planned to annex a large portion of the property. The village successfully annexed about 1,800 acres including the properties of Homer White (that became the Anest property), Sprenger, Aloysious Elfering, Stanley Berkiel, George Murphy, Gary Hicks and Philip King on behalf of the McHenry State Bank thus blocking the Forest Preserves.

Establishment of the NEFPA SSA

The main event that lead to the establishment of the NEFPA SSA in the mid-'90s was Abbot Labs' announcement that it planned to build a huge office/research complex east of Rte. 45. Lake County wanted to ensure that Abbott would stay in the area instead of moving north of the border into Wisconsin.

The sewerage system was proposed to provide Abbott with the services necessary for its proposed complex.

The ordinance called for the "construction and installation of a sewerage system to serve both the proposed NEFPA SSA and also the territory currently served by the county's existing Grandwood Park Sewage Treatment Plant..." It said it would "provide said territory with a safer and more appropriate, adequate, efficient, and environmentally responsible system for disposing of and treating sanitary sewage."

A special tax roll was figured "based on the average daily sewage flows projected from the original SSA tracts..." The tax on Sprenger's property was calculated to $79,600 per year for 20 years. The combined Anest/White tax was calculated to $231,800 for the same 20 years.

Other participants who were original SSA participants include Gordon Wells at $19,100 per year and Ken Glick at $30,388 per year. Small portions of the properties of Mike Wells and Russell and Lois Doolittle were added to the list as they were need for contiguity of properties and easements. Neither paid to be part of the system, and, in fact, Lake County paid the Doolittles $9,000 for easement rights years later.

In deposition statements taken by Deercrest for the purposes of discovery, Martin "Al" Galantha testified that the special taxes of the NEFPA SSA were the first source of revenue to the system. He said, "So actually the tax generated by the Special Service Area was the first stream of revenue that was going to help support those revenue bonds. And then the second stream would be the users' fees from the users themselves.

Easement responsibility

"I was told when I joined the Special Service Area that there would be no problem (completing the system). I didn't have the money. I had to take a loan to do this (join the SSA), and my bank had to look things over before they would lend me the money," said Sprenger.

"But nothing happened and nothing happened (with regard to they system's construction). I had the property on the market and quite a few people interested, but they would say, 'Sprenger, I like the property and you're an alright guy, but I can't give you an answer until you tell us when you can flush out there.'"

The bone of contention between Lake County and the Village of Antioch centers around who is responsible for the necessary easements in the Special Service Area, with each entity pointing the finger at the other. Initially, the only ordinance was the 1994 ordinance for the NEFPA SSA. The complication came when Antioch entered into an agreement joining the county in 1995.

Under section 12 of the 1994 ordinance titled "County Obligations" it says, "...the County shall, and the County Administrator is hereby directed to promptly undertake and diligently pursue to completion all actions necessary or convenient to: (under 6) acquire or otherwise obtain or secure any and all property, easements, equipment, and services necessary..."

Antioch is listed as having some responsibility in the 1995 agreement. Under definitions of the Antioch Northeast Sewage Collection System it defines the system, in part, as, "...associated land, easements, and rights-of-way, owned and operated by the Village..." but doesn't specifically say the village is to acquire them.

Later in the ordinance under "Interpretation and Severability" it says, "In case of any conflict between the terms and provisions of this Agreement (1995) and of the SSA Ordinance (1994), the terms and provisions of the SSA Ordinance shall control."

*I never wanted to sue my government,
but I've had no choice.
I'm on the hook regardless.
I'm obligated to pay for that (participation in the special service area).'*

Still friendly to businesses

Illinois always has enjoyed the reputation of being a business-friendly state, possibly because of the high number of corporations that maintain headquarters in the state and the fact that Illinois has an industrial heritage.

In actuality, Illinois ranks 13th in the nation for policies promoting entrepreneurship, according to the 6th annual Small Business Survival Index. Nevada and South Dakota rank first and second. Kansas, Maine and Hawaii are at the bottom, with Hawaii being dead last. Wisconsin ranked 30th.

The Survival Index tied together 17 government-imposed or government-related costs that impact small business and entrepreneurs—personal income taxes, capital gains taxes, corporate income taxes, property taxes, sales taxes, death taxes, unemployment taxes, health insurance taxes, electricity costs, workers' compensation costs, crime rates, right to work status, number of bureaucrats, tax limitation status, Internet taxes, gas taxes, and state minimum wages.

It's interesting to note the number of taxes and costs of doing business that are dictated at the local level—county and municipal government. In Lake County, elected officials have a great deal to say about whether the business climate is friendly or not.

In the case of the village fathers, dealing with business, big or small, is a tight rope walk. Being too friendly can court criticism. Dealing at arm's length, can drive business away. What to do?

Welcome DePaul to Lake County

Another institution of higher learning. That's a ringing part of the Back to School story in Lake County this fall.

As the result of a strategic alliance, world-class DePaul University is expanding its reach into the northern suburbs by offering programs and residential facilities at Barat College, an 800-student liberal arts college in Lake Forest.

A DePaul executive described the agreement of the two centuries-old Catholic institutions as "bringing DePaul into the backyard of Lake County." And so it is. The arrival of DePaul will be accompanied by $6.2 million in Barat renovations.

The higher education picture in Lake County just looks brighter and brighter all the time. As the array of degree opportunities expands, the list of areas with greater educational resources gets smaller. It's an enviable position. And it's our backyard.

Food pantries being depleted

This summer was hot and humid for everyone, but the heat and humidity were more stressful for public officials and volunteers who provide food and emergency aid for indigents and needy families.

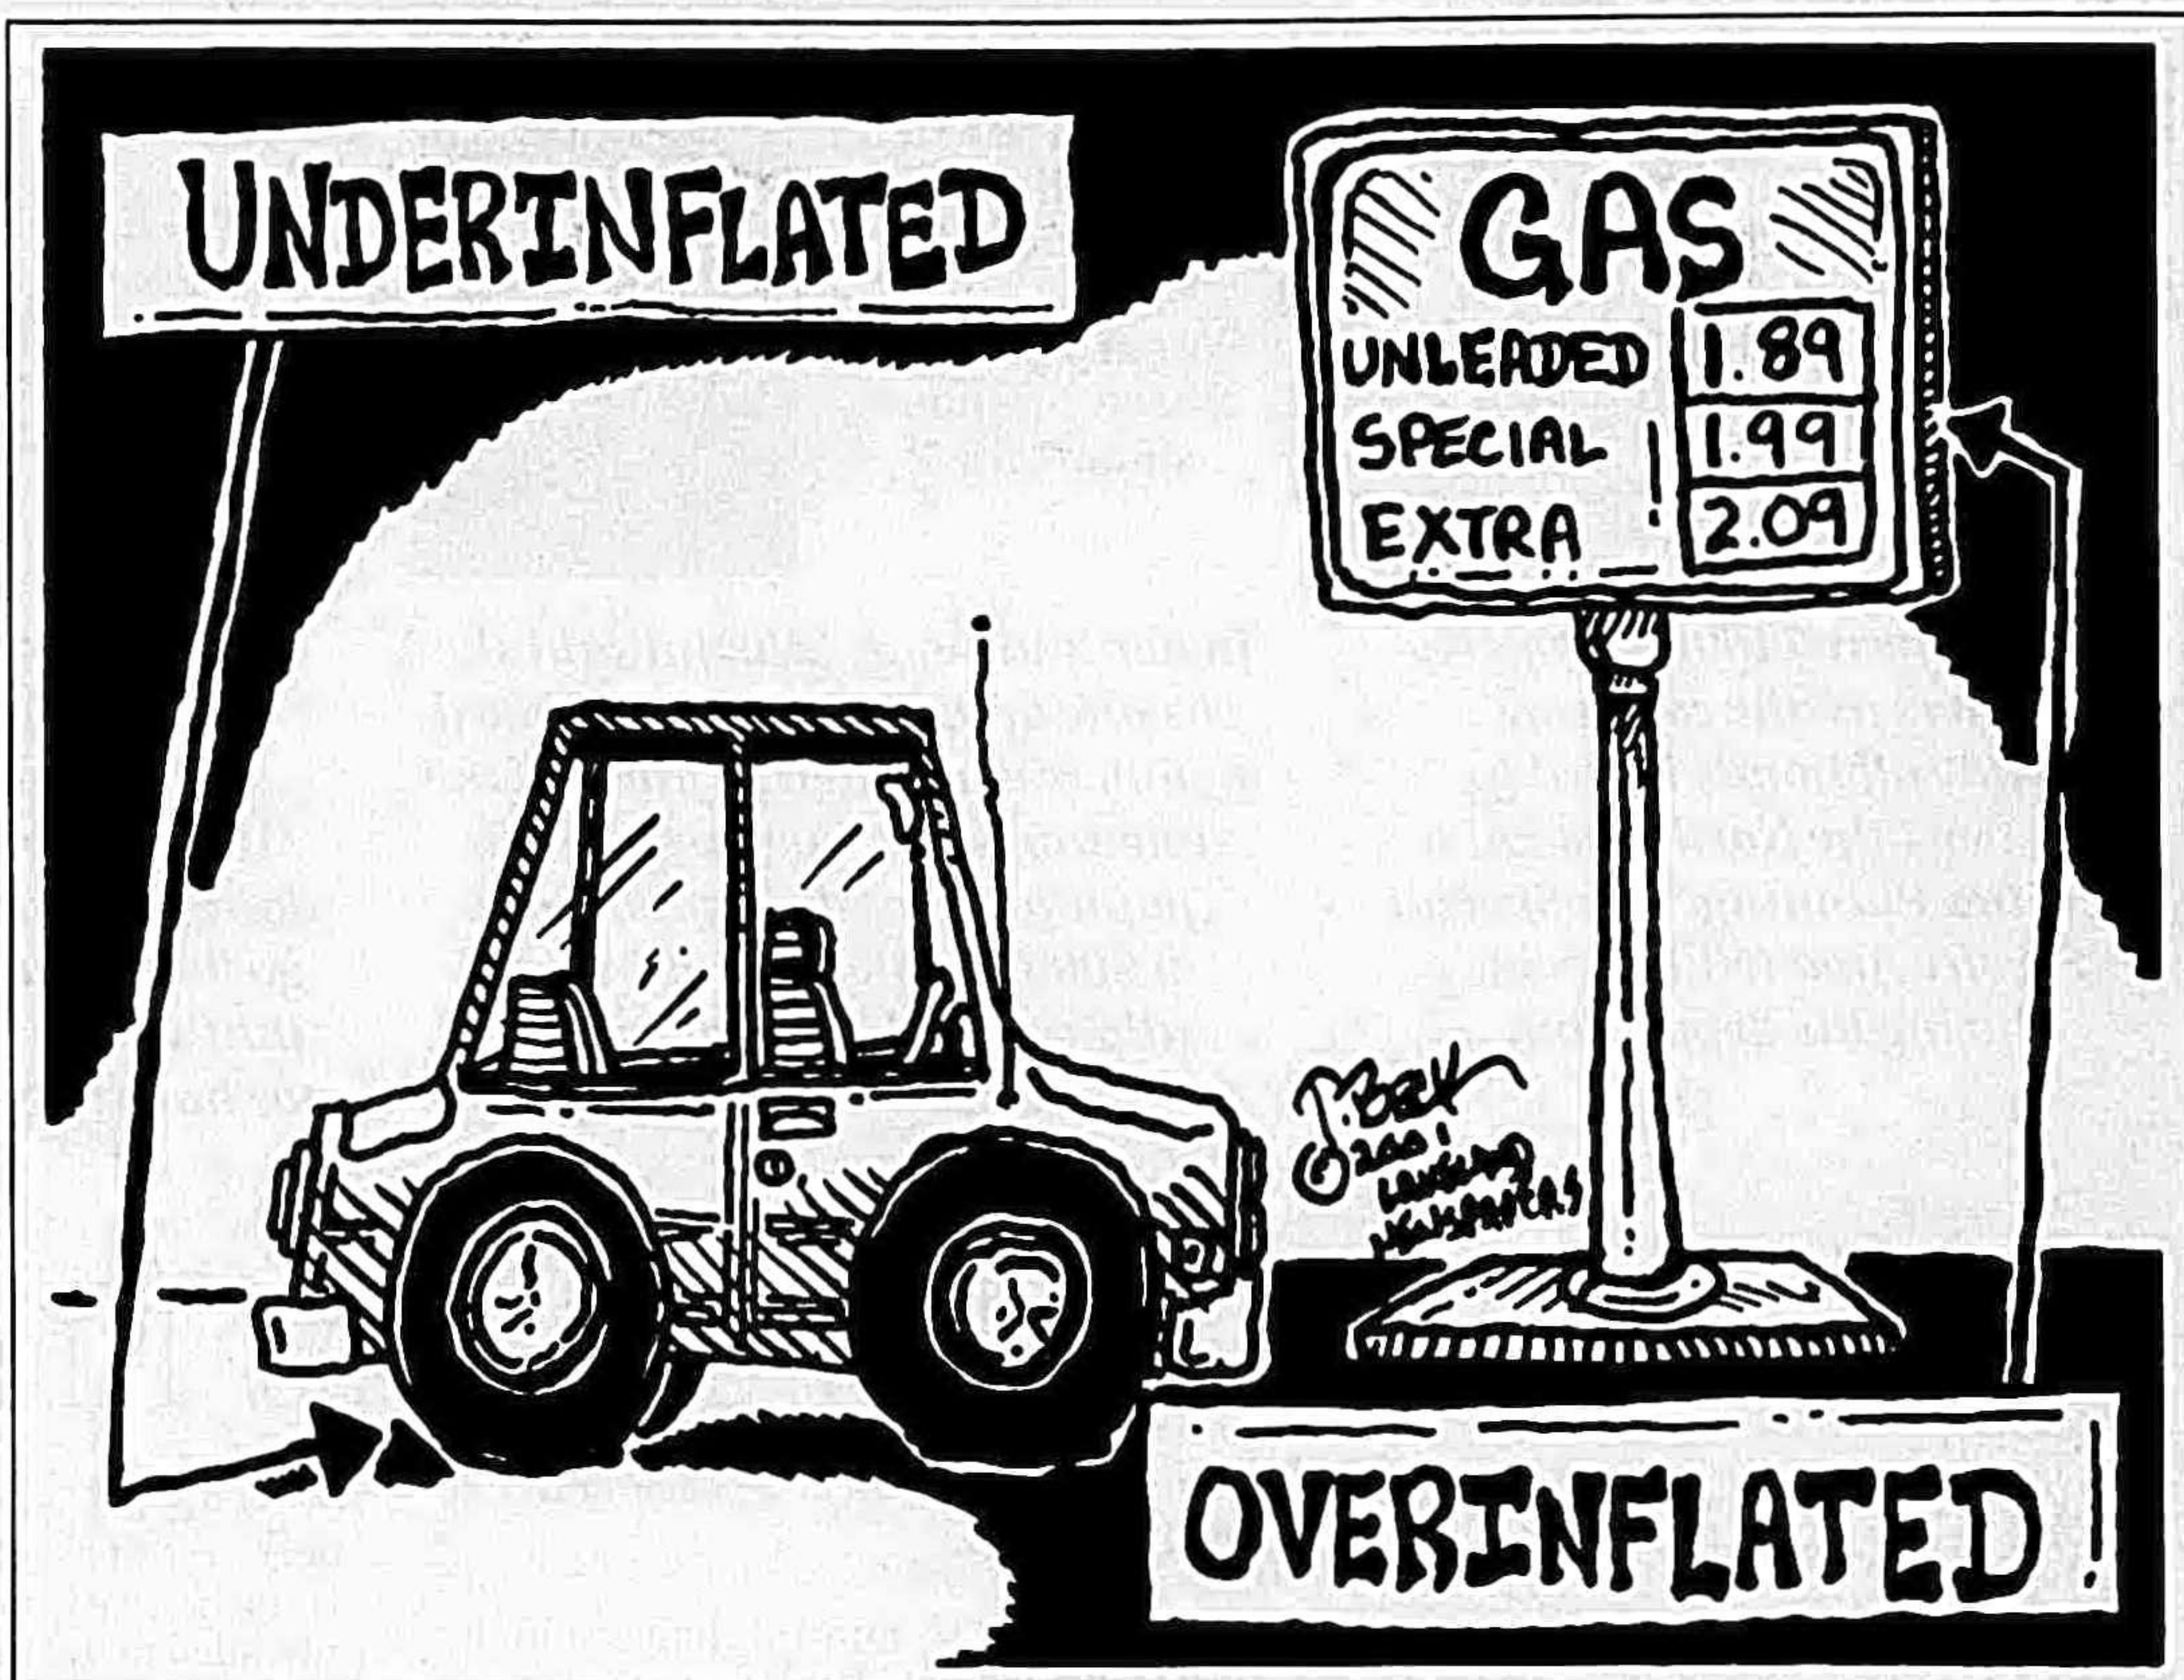

In Lake County, food traditionally comes from pantries operated by townships and church congregations. With an economy running less than full tilt, there has been greater demand for food resources. Pantries are running low.

"It's the worst I can remember," related Supervisor Gordon Kiesgen of Grant Township (Fox Lake-Ingleside), which has a high percentage of elderly and people on fixed incomes. Libertyville Township Supervisor Mike Graham reported food donations for the community pantry operated for the needy aren't coming in as usual. The economy has something to do with the problem, in the opinion of both supervisors.

Despite heavier than usual demand, Avon Township (Round Lake area/Grayslake) food supplies are normal because the township over the years has been an active participant in a U.S. Dept. of Agriculture commodities program. Supervisor Russ Christian recommends that other townships get involved despite governmental red tape. Warren Township is able to offer fresh vegetables to the needy this time of year from gardeners who supply the pantry.

Postal workers in a number of Lake County communities collect donations of non-parishables for township pantries. Kiesgen called the twice-a-year project in Grant Township a "God-send."

With the holiday season not too far away, pantry operators anticipate Christmas generosity to help restock shelves. As one township official stated, a gift of food for the needy will be a good way to observe Christmas this year. Note: The food pantries also accept checks.

VIEWPOINT

Culture change doomed 'City'

Three thousand adult softball players will be looking for a new home next spring to play their favorite sport.

They were regulars at Softball City when the four-diamond shrine to 12-inch slow pitch closed its doors forever in Hainesville a few weeks ago after 15 years.

"It was a great run. I'm going to miss the place, the players and the fun," mused Otis Carter, founder and operator of the softball emporium that attracted players from Milwaukee to the North Side of Chicago.

What happened? Softball City still was going strong with more than 800 teams who competed in leagues running from early April until late October. Carter supplied a two-word answer.

"Culture change."

Changing tastes in recreation and entertainment were at the bottom of Carter's decision to sell the sports center to a developer who will erect residential housing. Culture change and more. The "more" rested in ever increasing real estate taxes and skyrocketing costs of liability insurance.

Carter, who regularly worked 80 to 90 hour weeks during the season, related that he might have been able to handle increasing business costs, but he couldn't cope with the diminishing supply of players.

The youthful, crew-cut businessman said softball as a for-profit enterprise is a dying business. "The handwriting was on the wall. I realized three years ago that there was no future. Young guys, the 19 and 20 year olds, aren't playing organized softball anymore. In a few years, the guys in their 40s won't be coming out anymore. What then?" Carter asked wistfully.

Even today, young men and women who enjoyed the games, the conversation and the beer served in pitchers afterwards aren't playing because they're working two jobs. "They're working to feed their families. They don't have time for fun anymore," Carter observed. "Computers. Internet. Fitness clubs. Just hanging out. It's not softball for fun."

Carter is making a seamless change to landscape contracting for a livelihood. His business is located not far from Softball City where dismantling work already has begun.

When Softball City opened in 1986, four-diamond complexes built around a sports bar were novelties around the nation. Players came in droves. Girlfriends and moms, many with youngsters in strollers, rooted for the guys. The girls caught the action, too. Lots of ladies leagues. Seven nights a week. Softball action until midnight.

Not anymore. Culture change.

Ending pet scam

Pet lovers can thank State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) for introducing a bill that covers deceptive practices involving cremation of animals. Gov. George Ryan signed the bill into law. It is now illegal to knowingly make a false certification that an animal was cremated alone or with a group of other animals.

Tomato lady

Every neighborhood should have a Sandy Hjortland. A lover of gardening, Sandy enthusiastically shares her bounty, cut flowers or products of a small vegetable garden she tends along the Metra tracks. A rosy red homegrown tomato will brighten any day. Vine ripened. Sandy's fans are keeping an eye on her brussel sprouts, giant specimens that have been pushed along by this year's great growing weather.

Care for kids

KidCare health insurance is catching on slowly. That's a state program providing free or low-cost health care for Illinois children through age 18. Children of parents earning up to about $38,000 per year are eligible. KidCare provides doctor and nursing care, immunizations, hospital and clinic care, lab tests and x-rays, prescription drugs, medical supplies and equipment, dental care, transportation and a flock of other services. To find out more, call toll-free 1-866-468-7543. The program started in 1999 and now has nearly 170,000 children enrolled.

Questions 'openness'

Chris Martin, a resident of rural Mundelein who said he moved out of Libertyville because he was "tired of paying taxes," thinks the open space movement has gone far enough. Speaking at a public hearing in Fremont Township, Martin pointed out that Fremont has more than 7,000 non-taxed acres. Of that amount, about 30 percent is open space. How much more (open space) do we need? he asked.

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Race for GOP bid could make history

Republican pollster Rod McCulloch views a possible two men versus one woman in the March GOP gubernatorial primary in historic proportions.

"We are in uncharted territory. A two men versus one woman race never has happened in a statewide GOP primary," points out McCulloch of Chicago based McCulloch Research and Polling.

As the result of mid-August polling, McCulloch says the Republican primary is Jim Ryan's to lose. "Given recent Illinois primary history and the resources of his two potential opponents, he could do just that," McCulloch adds quickly.

The pollster adds a "wild card tone" considering the personal finances of Lt. Gov. Corinne Wood and State Sen. Patrick O'Malley. If they spend their own money freely, McCulloch sees them as formidable candidates even though their polling numbers are in the low teens compared to the attorney general's support running well over 50 percent.

The theory that Republican women don't vote gender like Democratic women will be put to a test in 2002, McCulloch theorized.

Jazzy meal

Tom Teigen, new executive director of the Downtown Waukegan Assn., is rekindling interest in the downtown revitalization movement with a Jazz Brunch from 10 a.m.-2 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 9. Non-stop music and brunch will be offered at Madison Ave. Restaurant, 34 N. Sheridan Rd. Next monthly noon luncheon Friday, Sept. 21, will have a progress report on passing a Historic Preservation Ordinance, which is the final step in obtaining MainStreet status,

Seek chairman

Republican precinct committeemen of Shields Township will meet Wednesday, Sept. 12, to select a chairman to replace Chris Streld, who resigned because of a possible conflict of interest with his post as an assistant state's attorney. The township includes precincts in Lake Forest, North Chicago and Lake Bluff.

Back to back

On consecutive days, Oct. 11 and 12, two judges seeking election next year will be honored at fund-raisers. Oct. 11 Circuit Judge Jim Booras will be feted at Country Squire. Next evening, Circuit Judge Ray McKoski, running for an Appellate Court seat, will be saluted at the Lehmann Mansion in Lake Villa.

Dark skies

State Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) returned from a legislative trip to China nursing an upper respiratory infection. He said pollution is unbelievable. There is coal dust everywhere.

Season finale

Republicans are putting away their golf clubs. Final outing of a busy political links season was Friday at Thunderbird Country Club, Barrington, where the Cuba Township GOP staged its annual outing and lunch under the watchful eye of County Board Rep. Steven Mountsler (R-Barrington). From now until the snow flies, Republicans will be playing golf strictly for fun.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Seek Rte. 22 solution

Improvements for Rte. 22 as proposed by the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT) will have an enormous impact on the municipalities along the route.

Citizens throughout the region will be affected. While the IDOT plan proposes to address traffic flow and the agency's projected traffic increases in the region, there are many potentially serious side effects and negative impacts.

Everyone recognizes the problem of rush-hour overcrowding. The proposal advanced by IDOT does not assure success. The short time gain in traffic flow during rush hour is likely to be measured only in a few minutes. Even Illinois Secretary of Transportation, Kirk Brown, has publicly stated that IDOT's proposed enlarged highway will quickly become congested.

IDOT has projected more than $70 million in taxpayer money is needed with this plan. This money can be used for other badly needed projects. In addition to the IDOT budget, each municipality will be mandated to spend collateral millions from local budgets to perform required ancillary work.

A number of consequential concerns have not been fully considered and appreciated. Among them:

There may be severe impacts on the environment including wetlands, flood plains, air pollution and noise levels. (Our village recently found it necessary to file a federal lawsuit to require IDOT to properly assess the environmental damage in accordance with federal law).

Serious safety concerns especially for seniors, children, the physically impaired and homeowners associated with the widening of the road.

There will be a lowering or property values—and tax revenues. Certain local businesses stand to suffer major losses.

Several central questions that have not been fully answered: Are the millions of dollars worth the stated objectives?

Are the stated objectives even achievable?

Are there other, less expensive, road improvements that can achieve similar objectives at much less cost and much less damage to the environment and tax bases of the various municipalities?

Barbara LaPiana
Mayor, Lincolnshire

Editor's note: Lincolnshire will host a region-wide public meeting at 7 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 13, to air both sides of the Route 22 issue at the village hall, One Old Half Day Rd.

Eternal taxes

We are rapidly approaching that time of the year when the local school boards, school administrators, and a smattering of naive parents start their school referendum drives. As in years before, they will start their scenarios by poor-mouthing the school financial situations; larger classes, no more music lessons, perhaps a reduction in French classes, and most of all, the hardship of using last years computers.

I realize that when one has children in elementary or middle school that their education in those environments is all important, but it is essential that those same parents don't lose sight of the fact that elementary and middle school are not the do-all and end-all of a child's education.

Next comes high school and then college, followed by graduate school (rapidly becoming a necessity for a "complete" education). It is projected that the cost of a four-year education in a private college will approach $175,000 by the time the children presently in elementary and middle schools are ready for college. But what has all this to do with referendums?

Simply this: referendums can add up to $500 or $1,000 a year, to an already too high property tax bill. This is an ongoing tax that doesn't quit when the children graduate. It continues on and on ad infinitum, as long as the property exists. Invested wisely, that same proposed referendum money can appreciate to where it can relieve a big part of the financial burden that all parents will school age children can look forward to.

Of course, there are other solutions that can be utilized: 1. no college, and 2. student loans which could place the burdens on the adult children. Think about it when referendum barrage hits the fan. Or perhaps there's an extra $175,000 (per child) sitting in a cookie jar at your house.

What's the hurry?

For two weeks now I have been researching peaker plants and reading the various arguments that have gone on throughout Lake County. As I study the information provided by Libertyville's struggle, I was struck by the amount of information and study done by everyone involved and I find myself disturbed. Why isn't Round Lake studying their possible peaker plant as thoroughly? Where are our studies? Where are our numbers, our independent analysis? Libertyville took nine months to make their decision. Why are the Round Lake village officials in such a hurry? Why aren't the officials in Round Lake taking the time to learn whether their citizens want this peaker plant? I know I don't want it and I and all the residents of Round Lake deserve to be heard and to have this issue thoroughly studied before any decision is made.

Closing HMO

The proposed new HMO legislation has this country doctor bewildered. There is a limited pool of premium dollars available to provide a potentially unlimited amount of patient care. If our legislators, in their wisdom, carve out another chunk of that fund for trial lawyers, how can we physicians be expected to provide more care from a smaller fund?

Primary care doctors have already been squeezed to the point that, under the capitated system, the insurance agent who sold the policy often gets more per month than the doctor.

How is the legislators have lost sight of what has made this country great? If the people don't like a commercial product, they vote with their feet. Nobody forces companies or individuals to select HMO's. For my part, after 30 years as a doctor, I can generally recognize terminal when I see it. As of Dec. 31 I will no longer open my practice to any new HMO enrollees.

Cheating spoils Little League fun

The famous sportswriter Grantland Rice said it most memorably: "When the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name, he marks not that you won or lost but how you played the game."

That moral used to be quoted frequently in sports and other competitions but has been gathering dust of late, replaced by a "winning is everything" philosophy.

And that unethical chicken returned to roost last week when Little League Baseball officials in Pennsylvania ruled a Bronx, N.Y., team, starring kids from the Dominican Republic, must forfeit all of its victories in the Little League World Series. The Caribbean nation's government, checking birth certificates, found the squad's star pitcher was 14 years old, two years beyond the limit.

Little League officials also banned for life the boy's father, Felipe Almonte, and Bronx Little League founder Rolando Paulino.

The pitching prodigy, Danny Almonte, won four games in the Little League World Series, giving up only one unearned run and striking out 62 of the 72 batters he faced.

Danny came to the United States with his father 15 months ago. He doesn't speak English and has not been enrolled in school.

The Dominican Republic is one of the world's baseball factories, having produced the Chicago Cubs' Sammy Sosa and other major league stars.

Danny Almonte down the road may become one of them, maybe with the Cubs, who knows? But because of pushy parents and corrupt coaches he'll always be labeled a cheater.

But baseball is soft on cheaters. Albert Belle, playing for the Cleveland Indians several years ago, was exposed as one of baseball's bad boys when the American League discovered the secret behind his terrific hitting—a bat in which he had illegally inserted cork, enabling him to swing faster.

THE PFARR CORNER

Belle's punishment was a mere 10-day suspension. He is still around, currently collecting $39 million by staying on the Baltimore Orioles' disabled list for three years. In recent seasons, instead of hitting home runs, he has led the league in pitching fits and trashing clubhouses.

Cheaters unfortunately pop up everywhere. Several years ago, a "runner" named Rosie Ruiz "won" the Boston Marathon, a 26-mile footrace. But other runners noticed Rosie didn't have the trim body of a distance runner and officials said she hadn't been seen passing checkpoints along the way.

It turned out she had hitched a ride shortly after starting the race and got back in once the finish line was near. While the real runners were suffering for two or three hours, Rosie had time to stop for breakfast.

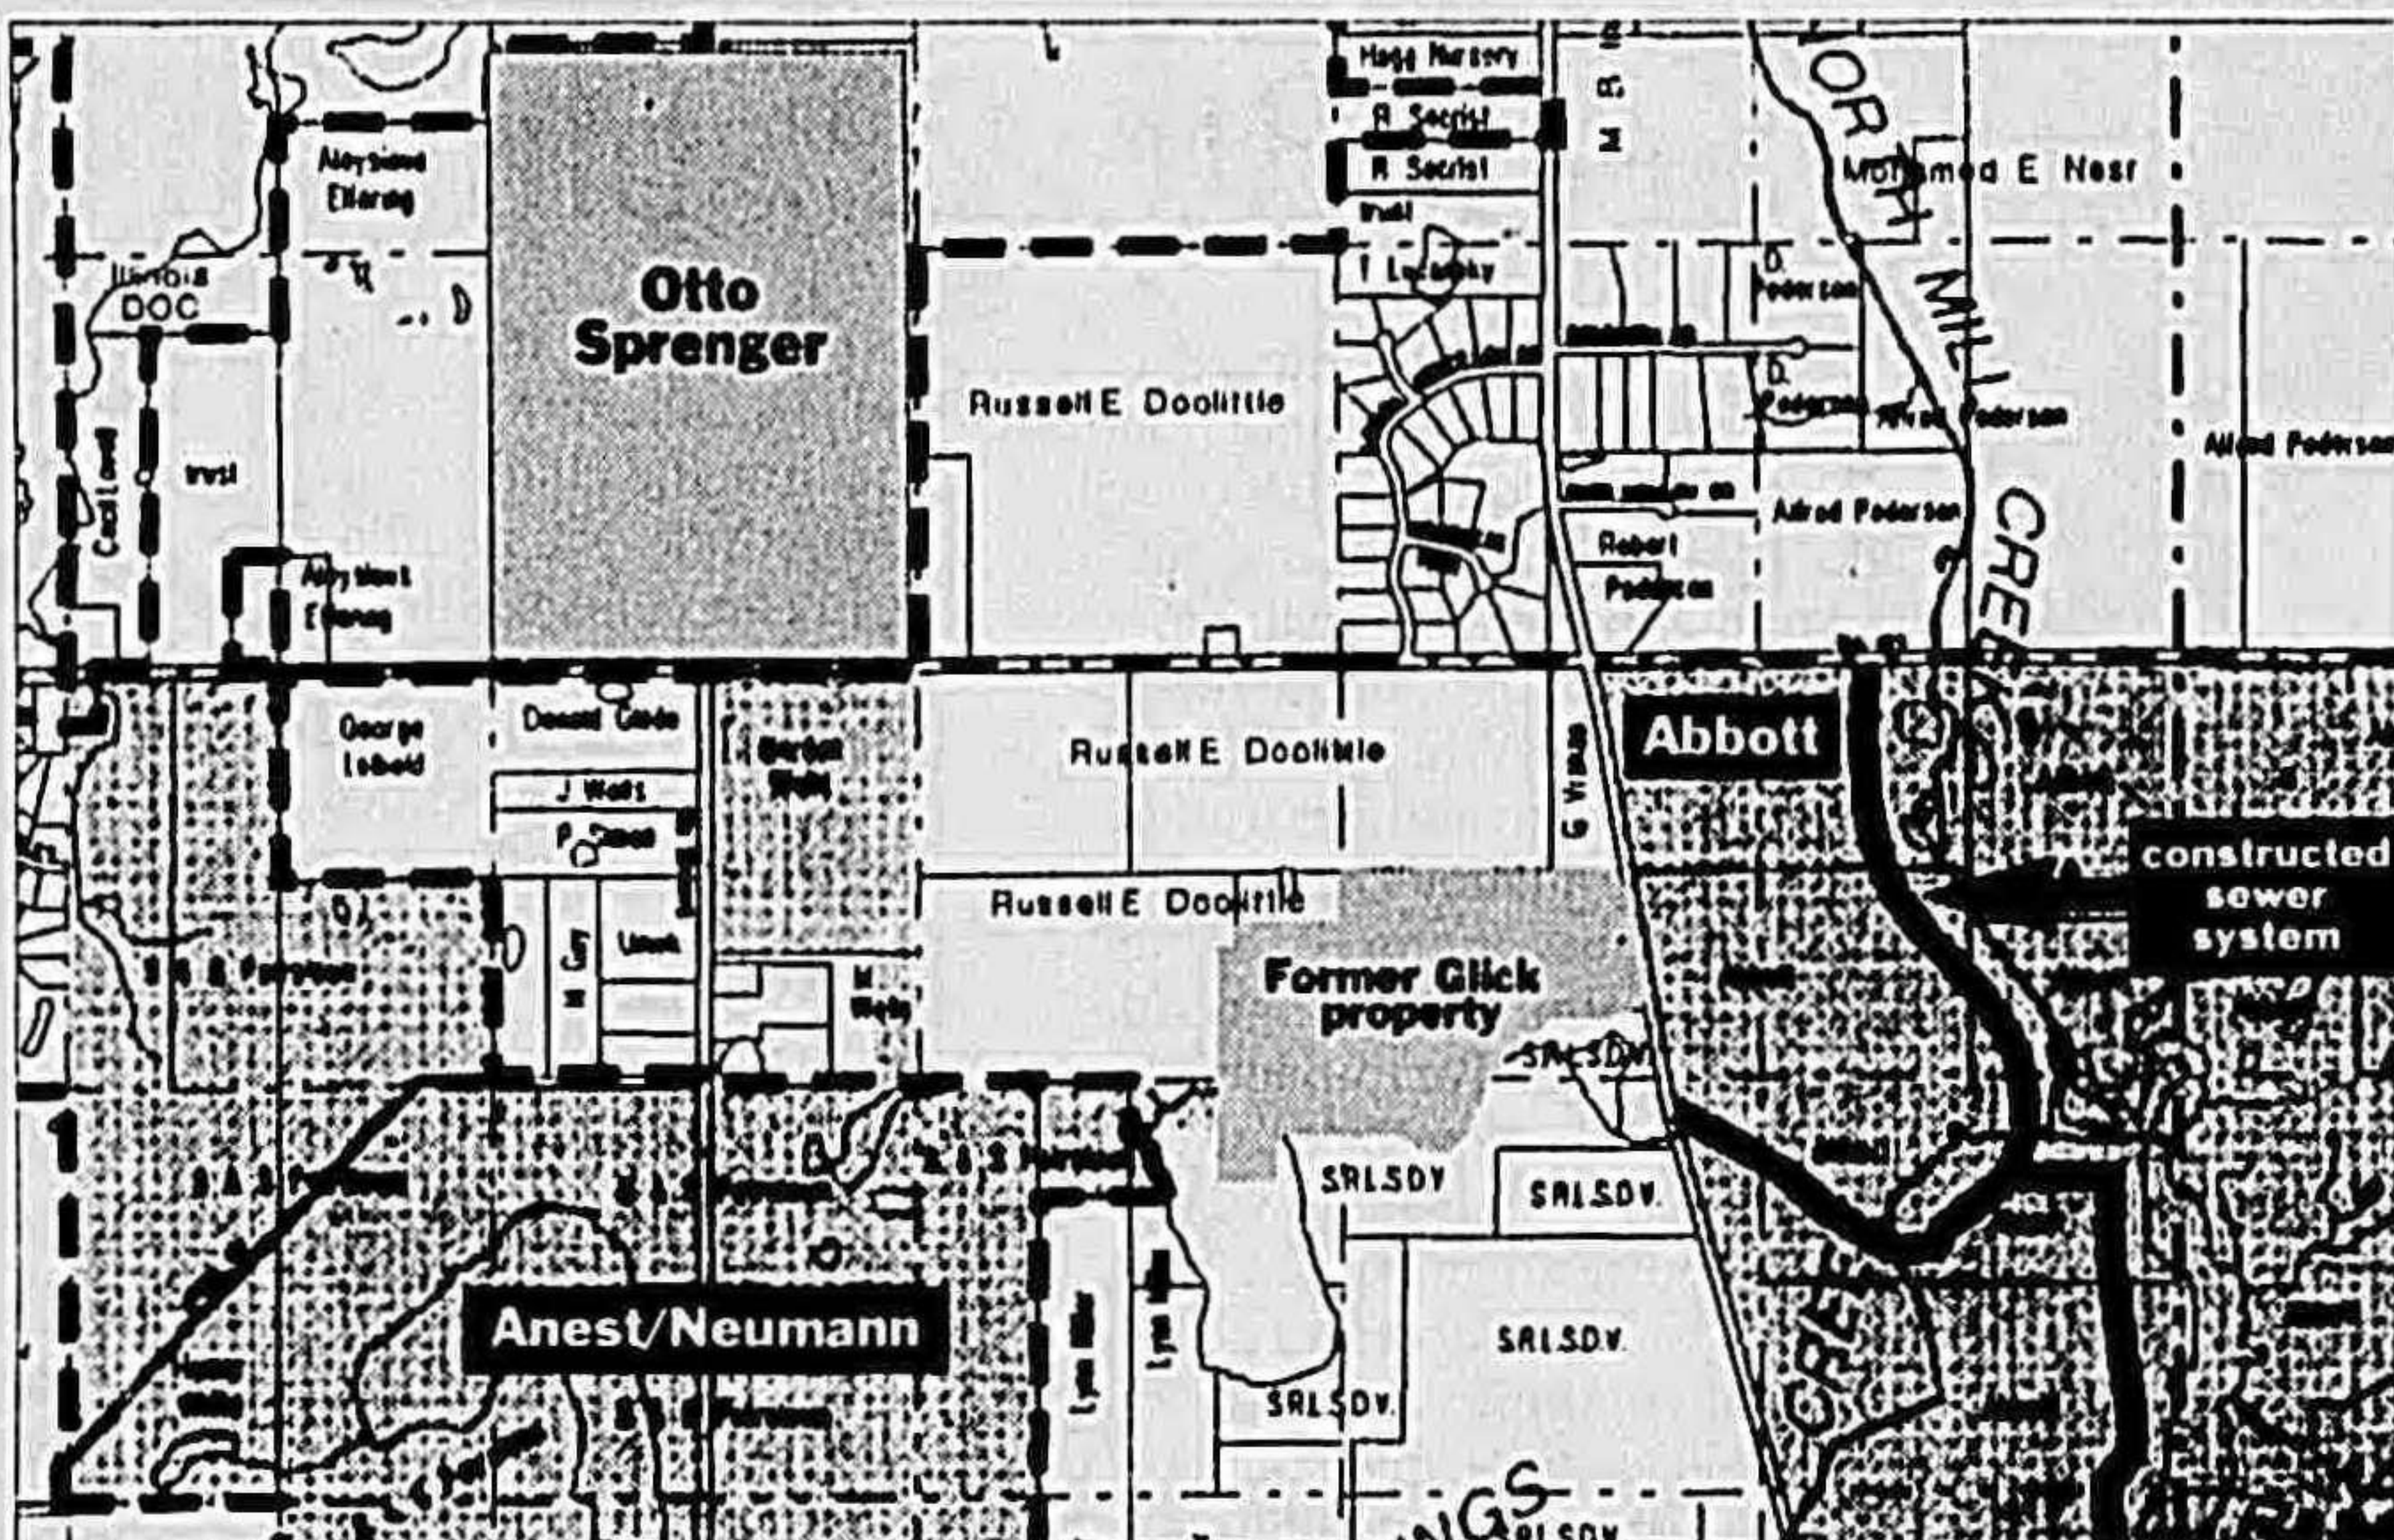

The Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa., often has been a suspicious romper room. In 1990, Taiwan, another baseball factory, won its 14th World Series in 17 appearances, defeating the best American team 9-0 after routing teams from other countries. Why, many wondered, don't those Taiwan phenoms show up later in our major leagues where millions of dollars are paid?

Little League officials say, "We oversee nearly 35,000 teams in 105 countries. There is no way we can check the birth date of every player. All we can do is continue to depend on the honesty of our volunteers and the parents who are signing up the kids." It's all in the family.

In 1994, Lake County drafted letters of easement that were distributed to the Special Service Area participants, including Glick.

Though Lake County paid $9,000 to the Doolittles for an easement across their property (recorded in 2000), it contends it has no obligation to provide an easement across the former Glick property now owned by the Forest Preserve Dist. The Doolittle easement is the second in line to the west of the interceptor stub.

The deposition testimony of Karl Nollenburger, who had been the Lake County administrator for the past two years until he stepped down on July 31, said he understood the necessity of the easement was to have contiguity within the Special Service Area to extend sanitary sewer service.

In Judy Martini's deposition taken by Deercree, she hedged on whether she understood the purpose of the easement, and said she had no clear memory as to whether she looked into the issue at the time despite the fact the property is within her district.

In March 2000, documents were sent by village engineers Clark Dietz to Glick seeking "approval, return and signature" of the easement location.

The village felt it was complying with what it had agreed to do. Shineflug had had conversations with various people at the county level, but Martini testified that there were rules to be followed and that Shineflug's efforts were not official.

Tim Wells, who was the administrator for the Village of Antioch until this past August testified during his deposition that his understanding was that it was the county's responsibility to secure the easements because of the wording of the 1994 ordinance establishing the NEFPA SSA. He said, "If I knew that the village were responsible for the easements I certainly would have acted accordingly."

Whose rights/who's right

Other matters complicating the issue for property owners and developers are the individuals and groups against what they call "high density" development in the East-Sub Area. The Antioch Coalition to Rescue the Environment (ACRE) was formed in the spring of 2000 to protest the Neumann Homes proposal on the Anest property.

ACRE is opposed to the proposal as it contends thousands of trees would be destroyed, while adding thousands more adults and their children resulting in higher taxes, more road gridlock and a lower quality of life.

The group's attorney Newton Finn gave its members a written legal opinion regarding the legality of the 1992 Settlement Agreement entered into by the Anests and the Village of Antioch when the Anests had petitioned to disconnect. Based on Finn's opinion, the group has threatened to sue the village if it approves the Neumann Homes development.

The Pulte Home Corp. is reportedly suing two area residents and the Village of Sleepy Hollow, in two separate lawsuits, for damages in delaying a 311-home project in West Dundee. The suit against the residents is said to be seeking $2.8 million in losses, and the complaint against Sleepy Hollow seeks $2.75 million.

Pulte Home had submitted a PUD last summer for development on the 91-acre Elfering property. The proposal was first continued and then tabled due to the sewer issue in the East-Sub Area.

Attorney for the Elferings, Andrew Semmelman, addressed Antioch's village board on Aug. 6. At a previous meeting, it had been suggested that some of the properties within the East Sub-Area that are not currently part of the Special Service Area be rezoned.

He said, "First let me state that it is very easy for non-growth protagonists to scream that open land should be open land. It seems that never is it their land that is in issue."

He continued, "...all these property owners agreed to the annexation believing that their property would become residential development. As for any discussion of rezoning to agricultural, the Elferings vehemently oppose any such action. It is one thing to argue about density and development, but a brazen attempt to reduce the zoning and the value of their property so dramatically is absolutely wrong. Such a rezoning would amount to an inverse condemnation."

And so it goes.

Neumann Homes, in addition to its own lawsuit against the Village of Antioch, has decided to join Deercree et al in its case.

"It's the beginning of the end when the rights of an individual landowner are ignored," said Sprenger. "It's deplorable when they (any governmental body) go trampling over landowners' rights."

Give your kids a chance to learn the difference between 'can't' and 'won't'

With the beginning of school I wanted to share with all of you some thoughts I have about what I view to be a very dangerous trend. Except for very rare instances, I don't believe in "can't" when it comes to kids. Oh, I have seen many examples of "can't" come into my office, but usually they are "can't" disguised as "won't". The problem is that when the "can't" shows up, the adults do what they can to make the challenge less, make the work easier, give the medication, contrive the seating arrangement, do whatever it takes to bring back the comfort and take away the painful stimulus-the work. Unfortunately, this is done in the name of creating self-esteem and a comfort zone for the child. This trains the child early on that any sign of struggle on the child's part is immediately rescued and it becomes the child's modus operandi. Suddenly, everything is "can't," because "can't" creates comfort. This process does not create self-esteem or anything else positive. Instead, what I believe it does, is completely take that child's chance away. It makes that child never have to struggle for the work again. The appropriate struggle is what creates the abilities. None of us grows without the struggle. When I went to school, there wasn't "can't." It wasn't accepted. You found a way and you did. And guess what? No one crumbled and no one broke and no one lost it. Kids found their way and did it and learned much about themselves and the work.

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

I have met many kids who have been classified as "can't." They come in convinced that they are somehow broken or defective. This is because they have been shown this so many times through the very people who have tried to make it easier on them. If he won't do his work, give him less. If he cannot sit still, give him meds. If he can't spell, take away the grades that judge the spelling. If he can't remember, take away the tests that judge the memory. The kids I meet all have one thing in common. Once I help to push them past the "golden hurdle" or the place where struggle meets success, they are suddenly kids who can. They are always blown away by it, but I am not. I see it as something I knew from the beginning. Each time that happens, I get thrilled and I get angry at the same time. My thrill is in showing a child he actually could all the time. He was just more steeped in bad habits and "won't" because he learned early on that "won't" worked to get out of things. My anger comes from thinking about how many kids there are out there who truly feel they can't because they have had things "dumbed down" for them. Made easier. Made without struggle.

If I sound a little angry about this it's because I am. I believe that nothing is different about kids now than 20 years ago, except what adults believe about them. I don't believe there is any greater distractibility among kids. I don't believe there is any greater proportion of learning problems than 20 years ago. The difference is that 20 years ago, kids who had difficulties were pushed to practice their weakness again and again, until it became their strength. Now, practice is almost never seen or heard. My goodness, today if you ask a child with a documented learning problem to actually sit and practice that weak skill, it is considered "abusive." Today it is considered more "correct" to let the child avoid the painful stimulus and just be "good" at something else even if the painful stimulus is something the child will need. I think not asking that child to practice the weak skill is the true abuse. And when a child starts singing the "can't chorus" which in most cases, I believe, is the "won't chorus," some sympathetic adult pulls away the challenge, pulls away the practice and the child loses.

Don't get me wrong, every person has strengths and weaknesses. I am not saying that we should torture kids into doing things way beyond what they have learned. I am just saying that we need to recognize that practice is the key to learning anything. That tenacity does not just happen.

Lake Forest Hospital CareCoach receives grant

State Rep. Susan Garrett secures $10,000 for cholesterol-screening kits

Lake Forest Hospital has received a $10,000 grant, secured by State Rep. Susan Garrett, to purchase cholesterol-screening kits for use on its mobile CareCoach. The grant will be used to purchase 2,400 cholesterol-screening kits, which is enough for a full year of testing.

"I am pleased to be in the position to support the CareCoach program," said Garrett, who worked to secure the funds through the Illinois First program. "The CareCoach is an excellent addition to Lake Forest Hospital's outreach to those in need of necessary health services throughout Lake County," she added.

"The services are available to anybody who comes on board," explained Sue McWilliams, program coordinator for CareCoach, who said the service is free to participants. "Our purpose is to reach out to people who don't have access to health care such as the elderly, people without insurance, people whose insurance doesn't cover prevention, or people just too busy," she said.

A recent incident emphasizes the importance of the CareCoach. A woman visited the CareCoach with no complaints. "She just wanted to participate," McWilliams said. Through a screening, the CareCoach team discovered the woman had abnormally high blood sugar, which if left undiagnosed could be suggestive of diabetes. "We don't diagnose," McWilliams said. "But we do educate people, and we do ask them to follow up with a physician." Working along with McWilliams is Michael Smith, the CareCoach specialist. Because all of the testing is done on-site, participants can walk away knowing their results. "We can discuss it right there," McWilliams said. People are encouraged to visit again to have their condition monitored.

CareCoach has recently added two new sites to its schedule for Grayslake and Gurnee. The mobile health van will stop at 2:30 p.m.- 4:30 p.m. on the 4th Tuesday of the month (Aug. 28, Sept. 25, Oct. 23, and Nov. 27) at the Grayslake Village Hall, 10 Seymour Ave. And, from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. on Aug. 29, Sept. 26, Oct. 24, and Nov. 28 at the Gurnee Village Hall, 825 N. O'Plaine Road.

Dr. Shimon Slavin joins Cancer Treatment Centers of America as medical director of immunotherapy

Shimon Slavin, MD, Director of Israel's National Bone Marrow Transplant Center, has been named Medical Director of Immunotherapy to initiate new protocols for bone marrow transplant at Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) and its five cancer centers.

Dr. Slavin is a leading medical oncologist in the field of allogeneic bone marrow transplantation and immunology used in the treatment of hematologic and solid tumor cancer. His current research involves an innovative approach using donor lymphocytes to effectively recognize and eradicate tumor cells in the treatment of leukemia, myeloma, non-Hodgkin's lymphoma and Hodgkin's Disease. Donor lymphocyte infusion (DLI) appears to be well tolerated and may eliminate the need for the standard use of high-dose chemo and radiation therapies. DLI is also being examined for treatment of metastatic solid tumors.

"CTCA's healthcare professionals along with their staff and volunteers represent talent and dedication that are unsurpassed," said Dr. Slavin. "I've joined the CTCA team because we share the common goal to deliver meaningful research results to cancer patients quickly and effectively."

In addition to being director of Israel's National Bone Marrow Transplant Center, Dr. Slavin is Director of the Cancer Immunotherapy and Immunobiology Research Center at Hadassah University, Israel, and has been Chairman of the Sidney Weisner Department of the Bone Marrow Transplantation Center at Hadassah since 1980. Dr. Slavin has authored or co-authored over 380 publications in medical literature, published 4 books and is on the editorial board of Bone Marrow Transplantation, Experimental Hematology, Transplant

International, International Society for Hematotherapy & Graft Engineering, Cytokines, Cellular and Molecular Therapy, Graft; Journal of Organ & Cell Transplantation, Journal of Hematology & Stem Cell Research, Hematology, Citocinas, Immunoterapia Y Terapia Celular, Indian Journal of Hematology & Blood Transfusion, Hellenic Society of Hematology and Journal of Molecular & Cellular Pathology.

"Our alliance with Dr. Slavin further strengthens our commitment to developing creative and progressive therapies for our patients," said Richard Stephenson, Chairman of CTCA. "He shares our belief in exploring every reasonable avenue toward discovery in the treatment of cancer."

Dr. Slavin received his Doctor of Medicine at Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical School, Jerusalem and trained in immunology and bone marrow transplantation in the United States at Stanford University and the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Center in Seattle. He is the recipient of numerous honors and awards including the American Physicians Fellowship Award and the Fulbright Hays Scholarship.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America

(CTCA) manages cancer hospitals, oncology practices and outpatient hospital-based cancer programs. Midwestern Regional Medical Center, a CTCA facility, was recently recognized by AARP's Modern Maturity as one of 15 "Hospitals with Heart." CTCA's mission is to empower patients and their families to win the fight against cancer by offering innovative treatment options that make a meaningful difference in the quality of their lives. Its centers employ and integrate medically advanced surgical, radiation and chemotherapy treatments with a comprehensive, holistic approach to cancer treatment.

Founded in 1988, CTCA currently operates cancer treatment centers in Oklahoma and Illinois and cancer treatment programs at hospitals in Virginia, Ohio, Washington and Indiana as well as affiliations with oncology physicians nationwide. CTCA programs and facilities are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, the American College of Surgeons and the American College of Pathology, among others. CTCA also is a major benefactor of the Cancer Treatment Research Foundation, an independent 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to innovative, nutritional oncology clinical research.

Lake Forest Hospital joins international patient medication safety project

Lake Forest Hospital has joined a year-long project aimed at working to continually improve clinical quality and safety. Sponsored by the Institute for Healthcare Improvement (IHI), the project fosters collaboration rather than competition among health care organizations. Lake Forest Hospital is one of 52 hospitals throughout the United States, Canada, and Sweden, and the only hospital in Lake County, participating in the project.

Along with such hospitals as Johns Hopkins, Cedars Sinai and the Mayo Clinic, Lake Forest Hospital has been chosen to take a proactive role in medication safety. The IHI Medication Project is one of many initiatives hospitals are involved in following the Institute of Medicine study estimating that 44,000-98,000 deaths occur each year as the result of medication errors.

The project is called "Quantum Leaps in Patient Safety." Each of the participating hospitals will be working on four goals that will redesign the medication system process. David Wang, M.D., Ph.D., medical director; Debbie Fluno, Pharm.D., pharmacy clinical manager; and Jenny Prescia, R.N., B.S.N., Telemetry senior staff nurse, will be responsible for the operation of the project.

Wessel said the hospital is looking to increase its already stellar performance by continually improving quality. "Most medication errors are system errors," Wessel stated. By constantly fine-tuning "we can make the system better." The study continues until May 2002 and data will be collected on an ongoing basis. New innovations developed by the collaborative will be distributed to the rest of the country.

It develops out of practice and habit and the only way these kids are going to learn that is through the adults teaching them. So, think about the message you are teaching a child when you take the struggle away completely and let complacency take over. Think about what you are doing to that child when you do that.

My hunger for knowledge has not only taken me to places I never imagined I would go, but it has also made my educational life colorful and wonderful and awesome. I got my hunger for knowledge because my parents and teachers taught me to never give up. To never settle for less than what I could be. I got that message loud and clear and trust me it never came through taking grades away, taking tests away, giving me easier work or accepting any bad work in the name of promoting self-esteem. It saddens me when I see a child who doesn't see that wonderful colorful world of learning like I got to. And don't go fooling yourself by thinking that I had some mammoth I.Q. and everything came easily to me. It didn't. I had a reading problem when I was in school. My eyes skipped around the words and I had to read things over and over again. Nothing came easily, but my parents made it known that if it didn't work one way, it would another and I shouldn't give up. They taught me that there was always a way and I learned that and found it. I had to do things many times, instead of once. I had to ask for help. I had to struggle, but the struggle is what taught me the tenacity and the ability to stick with something even if it doesn't click the first time. It is something I try to inspire with each and every family who I meet and I hope to inspire everyone who reads this article.

"Can't" can start as "can't" but soon becomes "won't" because "won't" works to get out of the work. I don't hear the word "can't." I don't acknowledge the word "can't." When a child says that to me, we minimize that word and teach "can" instead and then we teach how to get to "can." Of course, they don't believe it at first, but after some gentle practice and never giving up, they get there and it works. In my office, kids know "can't" is considered a 4 letter word. The most exciting time is when they start to catch themselves saying it so they can then change it. Our attitudes about ourselves are 99% of how well we do. If a child feels he or she can with practice, 99% says he or she can.

If they need help, fine give them help, but not the kind that makes complacency. Not the kind that helps them out of thinking. Make it the kind of help that makes them think and practice and use energy.

The next time you see a "can't," and you want to make it easier for the child, try it my way instead. Help the child learn to practice the "can't," through the "won't." Learn to appropriately take on the "won't." You will reach that place where struggle becomes success and you will love the result and so will the child. Practice does not need to be harsh, just so it is there and never let go of. Teach them to not let it go and they won't and they will become the great, fulfilled people that they were supposed to be.

Lake County hurt by federal funding cuts

Congress' approved $217 million reduction of the federal Workforce Investment Act (WIA) for 2001 will affect the Lake County Board Chairman's appointed Workforce Investment Board, which receives funding under the WIA to provide employment and training services to adults, laid off workers and youth. Lake County is to be notified in late September regarding its actual allocation reduction.

Once the county receives notification of its funding reduction, the Workforce Investment Board will determine how the cuts will affect the number of persons to be served. The lost funds are likely to hurt, however, as the Workforce Investment Board serves a large number of county clients.

Since the beginning of 2001, better than 42,400 county residents have used the board's services at one of its two centers in Grayslake and Waukegan.

According to Vicky Gordon, Lake County Workforce Investment Board assistant manager, "The rescission and proposed cuts are coming at a time when the economy is experiencing its first major downturn in a decade. The county's ability to provide employment and training service will be impacted, especially in light of our rising unemployment rate, number of company closings and layoffs."

An additional funding cut in excess of $540 million is proposed under the fiscal year 2002 supplemental appropriations bill. Congress is expected to act on the bill after Labor Day with the Senate taking action in October.

Further cuts mean that unemployed and under employed Lake County residents will be denied access to a program designed to assist them. Services at both the Grayslake and Waukegan center help people find employment, get career training and help businesses find employees.

The Lake County Workforce Investment

Board is working with the National Association of Counties (NACo) and the National Association of Workforce Boards to lobby Congress to support funding levels at no less than pre-rescission year 2001 levels or $3.6 billion.

Stakeholders such as elected officials, Workforce Investment Board members, clients, business leaders, workforce service providers and community representatives are encouraged to call Lake County's Congressional representatives to notify them regarding local concerns about the funding cuts.

Friends of the Lake County Discovery Museum completing plans for fall gala

The Friends of the Lake County Discovery Museum in Wauconda are making final plans for their third annual gala and fund-raiser, A Space Odyssey on Saturday, Sept. 15 at the museum. The evening promises a fun journey through time and space as guests dine and dance through decorations and displays highlighting the Stanley Kubrick classic 2001 A Space Odyssey as well as many of the classic space films from Flash Gordon to Star Wars. Members of the Lake County Astronomical Society will also be on hand with displays for stargazing.

The Friends gala committee is very pleased that Connie Payton is serving as honorary chairperson for the event, the proceeds from which will be used to assist the museum in developing the first exhibit on the life of the Chicago Bears legend Walter Payton. Television personality Jack Taylor is emceeing the evening's activities. The gala committee is co-chaired by Carol Brennan of Vernon Hills and Joan Hammel of Grayslake. Committee members represent communities with names from A-Z throughout Lake County and an exciting line-up of live and silent auction items has been gathered from individuals and businesses throughout the area. Trips, gift baskets, autographed space and sports memorabilia, golf packages and gift certificates for fine dining provide "something for everyone" to get their bidding adrenaline going. Dancing to the great musical sound of the "Park Avenue Band" will bring and "Out of this World" evening to and enjoyable close.

The award winning Lake County Discovery Museum is located on Hwy. 176 at Fairfield Road near Wauconda. Exciting new permanent, interactive exhibits include Bringing the World Home focusing on the world's largest collection of picture postcards house at the museum, The Lake County Mall of History and the Vortex Roller Coaster Theater that whooshes visitors through 10,000 years of Lake County History in less than 10 minutes.

ComEd 100 program provides scholarships to Lake County students

Irma Zaragoza, ComEd regional manager, community and economic development, is surrounded by student recipients of the ComEd 100 scholarship program and Lake County Partners site sponsor representative, Dennis Kessler. One hundred high school, junior college and university students throughout northern Illinois received the $1,000, $2,000 and $3,000 scholarships, respectively. The students gained work experience at various businesses throughout the summer in exchange for the $150,000 scholarships awarded. The program was designed to introduce some students to the workforce and enhance employment skills for others that will soon enter the corporate sector. The students were selected by participating site-sponsors such as various urban leagues, local chambers of commerce and boys and girls clubs, based on academics, extracurricular activities and additional criteria.

CLC NOTES

Cuba and Latin America music

"Nueva Charanga," a Chicago musical ensemble performing traditional and contemporary music from Cuba and Latin America in the style known as "charanga," will perform in concert at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 20 in the Studio Theatre of the Grayslake Campus. Admission is free; however, tickets are required.

The ensemble is led by pianist Donald Neale and vocalist Angel Badell, along with some of Chicago's finest classical and jazz violinists and cellists. Band members are well-known in the Latin music community and have performed in virtually every local salsa and Latin-jazz band.

Charanga music is deeply rooted in Cuban history. In the 1870s, a dance for couples called the danzon, which evolved from French contradanza, became popular. Danzones were played both outdoors and indoors by ensembles called charangas Francesas or French orchestras playing classical music. In the 1960s, the charanga underwent subtle but important changes, adding the hotter, jazzier mambo, which is essentially an African element. Later more modern charangas were evolved into energetic salsa and Latin-jazz that is graceful and deeply romantic. Nueva Charanga captures the charm of this music.

For tickets, call the box office at 543-2300.

Professional wrestling championships returns

The College of Lake County will for a second time host the Midwest Championship Professional Wrestling (MCW) competition on Sept. 29 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Physical Education Center at the Grayslake Campus, 19351 W. Washington St. Doors will open at 6:15 p.m.

The competition will be highlighted by the MCW title match. Contestants include "Acid" vs. Donovan Morgan, "Reckless Youth" vs. Mike Modest and "Scoot" Andrews vs. Kevin Quinn. Special appearances by superstars Chris Chetti, Simon Diamond and Dawn Marie are scheduled.

Tickets are $18 and are available through the CLC box office, 543-2300.

Advice on better reading skills

Gary Tuerack, a graduate of Cornell University and an expert in increasing reading speed and developing mental powers, will speak at the College of Lake County on Sept. 13. His presentation titled "Better Grades in Less Time" will be offered at 7:30 p.m. in the C-wing auditorium, Room C005. Admission is free; however, tickets are required.

Considered one of the most sought-after speakers on the college circuit, Tuerack will provide information on increasing reading speed and comprehension, using memory tricks and building motivation. His speech is based on his life experience as a slow reader in school, his struggles to comprehend and complete his class assignments, and techniques he learned to overcome learning problems. To help others succeed and share his knowledge, Tuerack wrote a book titled "Better Grades in Less Time: Faster Reading with Increased Comprehension." On college campuses, he is known for his dynamic, entertaining and interactive presentations. He also is the founder of Tuerack Training International.

The program is sponsored by CLC's activities program board. For more information, call 543-2290.

YOUTH SPORTS DIGEST

News and Notes

Grayslake Baseball Association will hold its second tryout for traveling teams for the 2002 season at Doolittle Park in Grayslake on Sunday, Sept. 16. The rain date is Sept. 22. Every player is required to attend at least one of the two dates. Times for all three dates include for Bronco level (11- and 12-year-olds), 1-4 p.m. and for Pony level (13- and 14-year-olds), 4-7 p.m.. Players age category is determined by the age that the player will be as of Aug. 1, 2002.

Players must reside in Grayslake High School boundaries and need to bring their baseball glove and spikes/tennis shoes. The Bronco level will field one team while Pony level will have two, depending on the number of participants.

Forms for tryouts are due in to the Grayslake Park District office by Sept. 1. For further information, contact Melinda Pudlo at 223-9330.

The Wauconda Township Soccer Association still has openings for their fall season. Practices begin this month while the season starts in September. For more information, please call 289-4167 or check out the WISA hotline at 289-4167.

Softball tryouts for the Wauconda Ice Traveling teams will be held Sept. 8-9 at Cook Park in Wauconda. Tryouts for 18- and-under, 16- and-under, 14- and-under, 12- and-under and 10- and-under will be from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. on Sat. and from 1-4 p.m. Sunday. Cook Park is located at 600 North Main Street, across from Wauconda High School. For further information on the ice program, coaching or to register please contact Rick at 487-1512.

Warren High School varsity basketball coach Chuck Ramsey will be conducting a one-day clinic for youth league and junior high coaches in the Warren area.

This free clinic will be Saturday, Sept. 8 from 8:30 a.m.-noon at the Almond Campus. Pre-registration is not necessary. Topics will include individual and team fundamentals, offense, defense, transition, and special situations. Contact Coach Ramsey at 599-4742 with any questions.

Results Football

The Grayslake Colts lightweights dropped their Big 10 Division season-opener to Dundee-Crown 20-15 in Tri-County Youth Football League action.

The Colts scored first when Stephen Delger burst 48 yards through the right side on Grayslake's first play. Throwing key blocks were Josh Rager, Travis Atkins and Joe Pawlak. Joe Sheguit's PAT kick made the score 8-0 with 8:20 left in the opening quarter.

Grayslake led 8-6 at half-time but Dundee rallied to a 20-8 advantage early in the fourth. The Colts then took possession on the Chargers' 35-yard line following a strong defensive series led by a Nick Falbo sack and a blocked punt. Four plays later, Travis Guy hit Richard Little with an 11-yard scoring strike and Curran Allenstein sped around left end for the extra point.

Delger finished with 74 yards on 16 carries to lead the Grayslake ground game. Guy connected on 5-of-10 passes for 23 yards. Delger also collected 6.5 tackles for the Colts' defensive while Falbo had 5, Atkins 4, Max Gutowski and Frank Carlesimo 3.5 each. David Wiggins, Pat Denman and Allenstein added three apiece.

The Libertyville Wildcat lightweights defeated the Crystal Lake Raiders 14-0. With 5:33 left in the second quarter, tailback Matt O'Connor scored on a 40-yard run off the right tackle. "The offense played great the entire game," said coach Teichman. "But the key drive came at the start of the second half." The Cats took control for eight minutes which did not end in a score but changed the momentum of the game. Quarterback Ryan Boyd threw an 8-yard pass to David DeRose for a crucial first-down. From there it was all Libertyville.

"The defense was outstanding," added Teichman. From the outset, the Libertyville "D" never let the Raiders move the ball. A big quarterback sack by Victor Tazioli was just one of the outstanding plays made by the defense.

Jimmy Potempa ran in the second TD for Libertyville from the 3-yard line for the Cats other score.

The Warren Blue Demons Saturday varsity team opened their second season with a 39-6 victory over Wauconda in Tri-County Youth Football League action.

Quarterback Jason Greenwood directed the Blue Demons to a 26-0 halftime lead.

Running back Lance Ware dashed for two scores and returned a fumble for another, all in the first-half.

Mitchell Dean also raced in from a yard out in the first-half.

The Warren defense, which held Wauconda to no first-downs in the first-half, was led by lineman David Quinones, Cameron Taylor, defensive ends Dustyn Lotz and Michael Baron, and linebacker Jamie Fischer.

In the second half, Ware added another score, a 52-yard burst with Greenwood running in the extra-point. Fischer rounded out the scoring with a 17-yard scamper. The Blue Demons will host Huntley Sept. 8 at the Warren Township Center.

The Warren Blue Demons Saturday Lightweight team fell to the Mt. Prospect Bulldogs 6-0 in their Tri-County League season-opener.

Outstanding offensive leaders included Brad Goldstein (45 yards rushing), Mark Deason (42 yards rushing) and quarterback Brennan Prisk (15 yards rushing). The defense was led by Deason, Bret Carlson, Mike DeGuzman, Chris Diaz and Jason Kopochis.

The Blue Demons host Barrington #2 Sept. 8.

Soccer

The Lindenhurst Predators U-10 boys soccer team went 3-1 in the Barrington Gatorade Classic tournament held over Labor Day weekend.

The Predators beat the Johnsburg White Lightning 4-0, the Lake Forest Gold 9-0 and the Elmhurst Premier 3-0. The Predators only loss was to the Lake Forest White 2-1 in the opening game.

Leading the way in the tournament for Lindenhurst were Shane Hunter (4 goals, 2 assists), Robert Nogle (4 goals, 2 assists), John Androus (3 goals, 1 assist), Stephen Korosis (2 goals, 2 assists), Andre Sippy (2 goals), Mitchell Post (2 assists), David Franco (1 goal), Jack McCollum (1 goal) and keeper Danny Hourihan (10 saves).

Other standouts include Silas Grosch, Eric Hibner, Georg Katres and Taylor Westrate. The Predators are coached by Frank Marshall, Brian Westrate and Steve McCollum.

The Grayslake Galaxy girls U-13 team captured first-place in the Wheeling Soccer Classic. In three qualifying games, Galaxy keepers Alicia Petro and Lauren Trentadue earned shutouts while the offense scored 11 goals.

In a 3-0 win over the Glenview Titans Blue in the opener, Kendall Dohm scored two goals and Bonnie Breitzman added the other.

Then, in a physical 2-0 win over Elmhurst, Christine Tebbetts breakaway down the left side provided all of the scoring Grayslake would end up needing. Darlene Naolhu added an insurance goal in the second half.

In the third game, Grayslake cruised to a 6-0 victory over the Oak Park Strikers.

Dohm and Jenessa Kinsey scored twice while Jessica Duhig and Bailey Deube added one goal apiece. Dohm also had three assists and Lindsey DeLoof one.

In the semifinals, Trentadue scored off of a deflected pass from Naolhu to open the scoring as Grayslake held on for a 1-0 win over the Warren Blazers.

Goalie Petro and the defense of Breitzman, Colleen Centella, Deube and Sara Waddelow held off numerous Warren attacks.

In the title game against Lightning AAA, strong midfield play from Breitzman, DeLoof, Deube, Duhig, Catie Griffin and Tebbetts along with defenders Centella, Courtney Ryan and Waddelow and keeper Trentadue kept the game scoreless in the first-half.

The Lightning scored a fluke goal early in the second half but Kinsey answered with a goal in the final three minutes to send it to overtime.

One minute into OT, Dohm was fouled and Waddelow took the penalty kick. Her shot deflected off the goal post and Kinsey slammed it home for the winner.

CLC NOTEBOOK

Men's golf

Usually every team has the goal of bettering their record from the previous year. However, for this year's College of Lake County men's golf team, bettering a second-place finish in conference by a margin of only two will be difficult task.

CLC lost two of its top scorers from last season in Josh Navarro and Brett Skelley. Navarro was the Lancers top player. His experience and talent earned him a spot in the National Junior College (NJCAA) finals last year.

To compensate for the losses CLC will be returning two veteran letterman from last year in Antioch's Tim Jankowski and Lake Zurich's Eric Palmblad, who battle for the top-2 spots this fall.

Head coach Larry Leon expressed little concern of which golfer has the No. 1 spot - he is comfortable with either in the position.

Kurt Kubicek of Wauconda, Dan Hefley of Cary-Grove, Scott Gira, Lake Forest's Nick Verdank and Libertyville's Justin Uhl will round out the remaining five spots on the team.

The team's main goal this year is to shoot a collective score of 4-man score of 300 during tournament play. CLC also hopes to surpass Moraine Valley, one of the top teams in the Skyway Conference.

"I'm looking forward to a good season from these guys, they have a good attitude," said Leon. "If we reach our goal we're going to have a successful season."

The Lancers opened the season by firing a four-man score of 658 to finish 12th out of 20 teams in the Highland '36'. Jankowski led the way with a 157 (80-77), followed by Palmblad of Lake Zurich (163 (82-81), Wauconda's Kubicek 169 (85-84) and Hefley 169 (84-85).

Men's/women's cross country

In its first competition of the season, the CLC women's cross country team competed in the two-mile Elmhurst College Invitational, held at Eldridge Park in Elmhurst. Team captain, sophomore Stephanie Hess of Round Lake finished with a time of 13:33, followed by freshman Karen Davidson of Grant (14:48). Amber Laubenstein, competing in her first-ever race, clocked in at 17:55.

Meanwhile, the men's team, running the 3.1-mile course, finished eighth in a field consisting of 16 teams and 192 participants. Freshman Arturo Hernandez (Highland Park) was 23rd overall (16:45), followed by Hipolito Caballero (Highland Park) in 34th (17:04).

Warren's Weston Navarro was 79th (17:54), Tomas Luna (Highland Park) 83rd (18:01), Lisandro Lopez (Grayslake) 199th (18:40) and Patrick Bader (Carmel) 192nd in 30:30.

Both teams will compete in the Waubensee College Invitational in Sugar Grove Sept. 8.

Women's tennis

The Lady Lancer women's tennis team looks to combine youth with experience this season. Freshman Amanda Hughes of Antioch looks to have the upper hand on the No. 1 singles position. Sophomore Megan Schulmeister will be playing at No. 2 singles while also teaming with Hughes at No. 1 doubles. Sophomores Pia Colina and Tiffany Kapsalis return to the team and will be playing No. 3 doubles. Colina will also fill the No. 5 singles slot while Kapsalis will start out at No. 6 singles.

Lake Zurich products Megan Wendt and Lindsay Ferguson, both freshman, will play No. 2 doubles. Both will branch off to play No. 3 and No. 4 singles, respectively.

Women's volleyball

The Lancer women's volleyball squad dropped a tough 30-9, 30-6, 30-8 decision to Kishwaukee in its opener. CLC was lead by the strong hitting of Erin Kriz, Jamie Knuth, Amy Holem and Becky Holem and Michaline Sproveri.

Solid setting was provided by Julie Peters, Stephanie Olsen and April Klepacki.

Women's soccer

Nicky Sowizdrzal scored both goals as the Lady Laners downed Bethany Lutheran 7-0. The defense was led by Buffy Brasile, who limited Bethany to five shots on goal in earning the shutout. Sowizdrzal then scored a goal and Jill Eggleston another as CLC posted a 2-0 win over Iowa Central to finish 2-0 in the CLC Invitational. The defense was led again by keeper Brasile, sweeper Heather Hutchinson and stopper Molly Hicks. Sowizdrzal, Brasile and Lisa Langenberg were all named to the All-Tournament team. CLC is 3-1 on the young season.

Men's soccer

The Lancer men's soccer team kicked off the season with a 2-0 victory over Kishwaukee. Returning sophomore Juvenal Casterjon scored two goals while Matt Deimler and Brian Kraenzle dished out the assists.

PREP FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Panthers off to 2-0 start

Don't look now but there's quite a buzz going on at Round Lake High School.

The Panther varsity football team is off to a 2-0 start after handing Johnsonburg a 28-7 defeat Aug. 31.

Running back Dallas Bassett dashed for 122 yards, his second-straight 100-plus rushing game. The senior scored touchdowns on runs of 47 and 50 yards as Round Lake scored 21 points in the third-quarter to put the game away.

Junior quarterback Mike Lampi rumbled in from 41 yards to give the hosts a 7-0 lead at halftime.

Junior running back Kevin Parker complemented the offense beautifully, piling up 90 yards on five carries and a pair of scores.

Defensive standouts included linebackers Jason Kalinowski and Scott Kreger and the offensive line of Rob Walleck, Ian Charleton, Erik Podumis, Pat Dalton, Kalinowski and Mike Pfeeger.

Next game: At Stevenson Sept. 7, 7:30 p.m.

Mundelein 27, Maine East 12

With running back James Hawkins sidelined with an injury, the Mustangs turned to Adam Austin's arm in the second-half to pull away with its first win. The senior signal-caller completed 10-of-21 passes for 135 yards, including a 13-yard scoring strike to Mike Cox.

Hawkins had given Mundelein (1-1) a 7-6 halftime lead after dashing 68 yards for a score. He finished with 169 yards before being taken out at the start of the third quarter.

Bird finished with 34 yards rushing and added touchdown runs of 3 and 24 yards. On defense, Derek Schafernak had 10 total tackles while Brian Leav and Byrd picked off passes.

Next game: Hosts Wauconda Sept. 7, 7:30 p.m.

Carmel 47, Gordon Tech 7

The Corsairs breezed to the non-conference win as Eric Luna rushed for 140 yards and a touchdown. Quarterback Matt Roe rushed for two scores and passed for another while finishing with 75 rushing and 115 passing.

Pat Adrien added 66 yards rushing, including a 1-yard score. He also returned a kickoff 82 yards to close the scoring. Jack Simmons caught two balls for 70 yards and a score.

Next game: Hosts Marian Catholic Sept. 7, 7:30 p.m.

Warren 40, Glenbard East 20

Justin Williams scampered for 160 yards and three touchdowns as Warren (2-0) cruised.

Paul Dubler hauled in seven catches for 128 yards and a score and returned a punt 49 yards. Chris Crandall also scored a touchdown, finishing with 85 yards on the ground.

C.J. Feller tossed for 238 yards and a score and Tyler Kozlowski had 10 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Next game: Hosts Grant Sept. 7, 7:30 p.m.

Antioch 41, Fenton 18

P.J. Hilbert ran for two touchdowns while tossing for another and Dan Miodonski finished with 125 yards rushing and a score as the Sequoias evened its mark at 1-1.

Senior defensive lineman Josh Stork provided defensive fireworks after returning a fumble for a score.

Next game: Hosts N. Chicago Sept. 8, 1 p.m.

Libertyville 31, Moline 17

Kevin Fontana dashed for 109 yards on 10 carries and a pair of touchdowns and running mate Gerett Burl added 60 yards and two scores as the Cats evened their mark at 1-1.

Burl, Colorado-bound next fall, also ran a kickoff back 91 yards in the third quarter as Libertyville pulled away. Joe Jarosz and Shane Voigt picked off passes.

Next game: Hosts Zion-Benton Sept. 7, 7:30 p.m.

Moulis, Schlei win again

Dave Moulis of Johnsburg closed in on another Star Trac 410 Outlaw Winged Sprint Car season championship by winning his fifth feature of the season at Wilmot Speedway on September 1 at Premier Racing Production's Wilmot Speedway. It was Moulis' fourth Star Trac win along with having taken the World of Outlaws Gumout Series 'King of Wisconsin' in June.

"We've been struggling lately. We've taken just about everything apart on the car," admitted Moulis. "It ran super tonight, allowing me to put it inside, outside, wherever I wanted."

John Tierney took the initial lead in the sprint main with Moulis going in front in turn three on the second circuit. The only caution flew on lap five for a spun car, with Moulis commanding the track and field throughout the remaining 20 circuits.

Slicing inside and outside sifting his way through traffic, the four-time Wilmot champion lapped up to seventh-place in the final running order at the checkered flag. Kurt Winker of Pleasant Prairie finished second while Fox Lake's Jim Moulis, Dave's uncle, took third. Rick Kelsey of West Allis, Wis. was fourth and Jeff Ferkin of Pleasant Prairie fifth.

Scott Kuxhouse of Antioch won his first 20-lap IMCA modified main event of the year.

"I lucked out in the beginning," admitted Kuxhouse, after scoring his first feature win since the final night of racing in September, 2000. "The car ran great and I'm really grateful for all of the support of my sponsors, crew, family and especially my wife, Darlene. Sometimes I don't think I have any luck, but tonight, I did."

Point-leader Ed Devall of Waukegan closed in on the 2001 track championship with a runner-up finish. Dost of Antioch ended up third. Bobby John Hensley of Lake Villa, driving Kuxhouse's old car, finished fourth and Nick Simons of Genoa City was fifth.

Zion's Tony Schlei of Zion captured his seventh 10-lap Herb's IMCA hobby stock main event win of the year to close in on his first-ever track championship.

In the sprint car 'B' main, Bill Wirth nicknamed 'Wildman' flipped in turn two taking a wild ride, but was uninjured.

The traditional Wilmot Speedway Model Contest sponsored by Gear Head Hobbies of Volo saw Randall Wigle of Hillside, Ill. take the adult championship and Kenny Johnson Jr. of Salem, Wis. won the youth division crown.

Wilmot Speedway hosts "Say No To Drugs Night" on Saturday, September 8 as the Midwest Auto Racing Association midjets, the Wisconsin Mini-Sprint Association Mini-Sprints and Badger-Illini Dwarf Cars are on the program.

The rescheduled Bumper-to-Bumper Interstates Racing Association (IRA) Outlaw Sprints are planned for Friday, Sept. 14 along with IMCA modifieds.

On Saturday, Sept. 15 will be IMCA modifieds, Herb's IMCA hobby stocks and INEX Legend Cars along with the Midwest Challenge Bus Race.

Season championships for the Star Trac 410 Outlaw Winged Sprints, IMCA modifieds and IMCA hobby stocks are scheduled Saturday, Sept. 22.

The 50th Anniversary Season will come to a close on Saturday, Sept. 29 featuring the 2nd Annual Night of Destruction including a demolition derby. Start time on the 29th is 6 p.m.

Races for all other programs begins at 7 p.m.

Wilmot Speedway is located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds in Wilmot, Wis. For the latest information phone the 24-hour racelines 262-862-2446 or 847-838-RACE.

SEE MILWAUKEE'S SKYLINE.

If you think Milwaukee doesn't have as much to offer as Chicago, you haven't been to the Milwaukee County Zoo. At the Zoo, we have more than 2,500 exotic animals - including more than 80 rare and endangered birds, fish, reptiles, and mammals. That's in addition to live shows, educational exhibits and talks, and exciting rides. And it's all on 200 park-like acres - with animals in lush, realistic environments. So this summer, take a trip up to the Milwaukee County Zoo. And see some things in Milwaukee that you might not expect.

The ZOO makes anything else seem tame.

For more information on the Milwaukee County Zoo, including hours, admission rates, and directions please call us at 414-771-3040 (TDD: 414-771-1180), or visit us on the web at www.milwaukeezoo.org.

$125,000 raised for leukemia

The fifth annual "Angels in the Fairway" golf outing hosted by the "Joey's Angels" Chapter of the Evanston-based Leukemia Research Foundation raised $125,000 and attracted 520 golf-enthusiasts to Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth and ThunderHawk Golf Club in Beach Park.

The event was sponsored by F.H. Paschen, and S.N. Nielsen General Contractors in memory of Joey Mix, a Buffalo Grove youth who lost his life to leukemia in 1996 at the age of 3.

More than 2,200 golfers have participated in Angels in the Fairway over the last five years and have helped raise over $625,000 for the Leukemia Research Foundation. For more information visit the chapter's web site at www.joeyangels.org.

The Leukemia Research Foundation is comprised of more than 1,000 volunteers from 21 local chapters who have joined together to conquer leukemia, lymphoma and myelodysplastic syndromes by funding research into their causes and cures and to enrich the quality of life of those touched by these diseases. For more information, visit the LRF web site at www.leukemia-research.org or call 424-0600.

The LRF has been funding research into the causes and cures of leukemia and related blood cancers for 55 years, issuing grants totaling $15 million to more than 400 scientists and physicians.

GTAAA NEWS

Grant Township Amateur Athletic Association (GTAAA) is offering a fall baseball and softball league to kids ages 13-15 next season. All kids who were 12-to-14 this past season are also eligible. Players must reside within Grant Township. The leagues will run for six weeks, beginning Sept. 8 and ending in late-October. Games will be played at the Field of Dreams, located in Grant Township off of Molidor Road.

A typical day for the leagues will begin at 4 p.m. with 45 minutes to an hour of skill development. Scrimmage games will then take place. Leadership will select teams at each session. Each session concludes with closing remarks followed by dismissal at 6:30 p.m.

The training portion of each session will concentrate on necessary skills needed to compete at this level, including how to pitch from the stretch and hold runners close. Pitchers will throw from an 80-foot diamond.

Girls will be introduced to softball as it is played at the ASA, or high school level. They will play on a standard softball diamond.

Registration will be between 3-4 p.m. the first scheduled day of the session. Any inquiries can be directed towards Larry Lutz at 587-7683.

Atoms youth ice hockey holds sign-ups

The Lake County Atoms Youth Ice Hockey Association is still taking registrations for instructional hockey, house league and travel ice hockey for the fall/winter 2001-02 season.

The Atoms offer learn-to-skate and ice hockey programs for boys and girls ages 4-17. Beginning and experienced players are welcome. Membership is open to players from anywhere in Lake, Kenosha and McHenry counties.

Registration forms must be submitted prior to the start of the season. Travel hockey tryouts began Sept. 4 while the instructional and house league hockey programs begin Sept. 14.

For further information, call hockey director Dave Schlagetter at 528-6656 or registrar Jim Meyer at 543-1988.

FANTASY FOOTBALL MONTHLY
(Touchdowns Only!!!)

Fantasy Football season is here! For many Lakeland readers, the very thought sends their hearts racing. But for others, the question may be, "What is Fantasy Football?"

One of the most popular games across the country, Fantasy Football comes in many different forms, with each allowing football fans to draft their "own" team every Sunday afternoon and/or Monday night.

Lakeland Newspapers began their league last year. This year the following rules apply: "readers must pick two quarterbacks, two running backs and two wide receivers out of two respective categories. Although many Fantasy Football leagues count receiving, rushing and return yards, Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly counts only touchdowns."

Your team is good for one month and one month only. Entries must be post marked by the last day of the previous month in order to enter the next month's contest. For example, September 29th is the last day to enter the October contest. You must re-enter each month. After the last game of the month is played the total amount of touchdowns scored by your six players is counted and whichever reader has the most total touchdowns wins. In the event of a tie, Lakeland will count the touchdowns of the candidate's "write-in" players. One entry per person. Winner will be mailed a check for $100.

Lakeland Newspapers will publish a Fantasy Football column each week with tips and player news. Don't forget that schedule plays a big role in which players you choose. Just because someone may be the league's best player, does not necessarily mean that they will be the best player that month.

Good luck and get those entries in.

Big Brothers Big Sisters holds back-to-school fund-raising drive

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County is conducting a "back-to-school" fund-raising drive to support the social service agency's afterschool mentoring program at 10 different sites in Lake County. Money raised during this effort will be used to purchase arts and crafts supplies, good quality books and to provide school bus transportation for the high school volunteers traveling to elementary schools throughout the county each week.

"In the past 2 1/2 years our high school mentoring program has grown from 25 matches to 250 'bigs' and 'littles' enjoying one another's company on a regular basis," explained Harry Nicole, executive director of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County. Funds will also cover the expense of a one day conference for high school mentors which will teach them about children, communications, mentoring and developing relationships.

A donation of $10 will buy one high quality book for a match to share; $25 will buy snacks for one program site for one week; $60 will pay for five high school mentors to participate in the mentoring conference; $100 will pay for transportation for one week; and $150 will pay for arts and crafts supplies for one program site for the entire year.

"The new books will reinforce reading skills while building new relationships, while the arts and crafts projects help the mentors and the children establish rapport. Our training is essential for the mentors to feel confident, competent and supported in their important role," Nicol explained.

Studies from the mentoring program have revealed that 79 percent of the elementary school children said that their grades improved because of the program and 75 percent of the participants said that relationships with their peers had improved. Furthermore, 83 percent of the children improved their level of self-confidence, according to teacher reports.

Donations may be forwarded to Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County, 3701-G Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031. For more information about Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County and the organization's mentoring programs for children and youth from single parent homes, call 360-0770.

Parkside celebrates Hispanic heritage with month of events

The University of Wisconsin-Parkside and the student organization Latinos Unidos celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month with a series of events.

From Sept. 19 to Oct. 13, the festivities include music, dancing, food, workshops, games, and comedy. Most programs are free and open to the public.

Hispanic Heritage Month kicks off Wednesday, Sept. 19, at 11:30 a.m.

Boston's Rob Gonzalez and band provide the music with demonstrations of traditional Mexican dances from Ballet Folklórico Nuestra Tradición, and salsa/merengue by Latinos Unidos members.

A Latino Food Fair will be available.
The program is free and takes place in Main Place, Wyllie Hall.

UW-Parkside students are invited to the campus-only Hispanic Heritage Month cook-out and Welcome Back Social. The cookout is Friday, Sept. 21, at 11:30 a.m. at the Union Patio, and the Social is Wednesday, Sept. 26, in The Den (Union Recreation Center) from 8 to 10 p.m. Both are free to students and feature food and games. Prizes will be awarded at the Social.

Everyone is invited to the Wednesday, Oct. 3 Discussion Forum "Latino vs. Hispanic: Which is Politically Correct?"

This event is in Union 104-106 at noon.
Enjoy the comedy of New York's Eric

Nieves, Thursday, Oct. 4, in Union Square, at 7 p.m. And join in a Diversity Workshop with Dr. Samuel Betances, Friday, Oct. 12.

The celebration closes with the second annual Hispanic Heritage Month Banquet and Dance, Saturday, Oct. 13.

Admission is $15 per person for the reception, banquet and dance, $5 for the dance only.

For more information about Hispanic Heritage Month events, call Luis Benevoglianti at 262-595-2731.

PADS searches for volunteers

The Lake County PADS (Public Action to Deliver Shelter) program plans to open its doors on Monday, Oct. 1 in order to care for the homeless men, women, and children of Lake County. The program has the capacity to serve approximately 90-110 individuals each night, providing food, shelter and hospitality throughout the bitter winter months.

PADS Program Manager Jay Simala says, "There are at least two things many individuals in Lake County simply don't know. 1. Homelessness is a countywide problem. Last season we served over 800 different people from all throughout the county. 2. The need that we have for volunteers is tremendous, and there are a variety of ways to get involved. Volunteers can prepare meals, serve at one of our 18 area homeless shelters, collect supplies, or donate money to assist with program expenses."

Any individual who is interested in donating their time or any other resources to PADS is encouraged to call 689-4357, Ext. 103 for information about how to get involved. Operated by PADS Crisis Services, Inc., the PADS shelters are located in churches throughout Lake County, with sites open each night of the week from Oct. 1-April 30.

Insurance underwriting credit discrimination banned

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Rep. Timothy Osmond (R-Antioch) took action abusive insurance underwriting practices and proposed legislation that was signed into law prohibiting insurance companies from using credit scoring as the sole basis of issuing or renewing personal lines policies.

"Some companies were non-renewing long-term customers simply because of lack of credit information," said Osmond.

Osmond said that this was a new underwriting tool for many insurance companies, and that credit rating companies like Trans Union and Equifax said they could determine future losses based on credit scores. According to Osmond, when asked, these credit rating companies would say that their formulas were proprietary and would not disclose information.

He explained that something as simple as automobile shopping can negatively affect one's credit score. "I bet you didn't know that if you went shopping for a car over the next couple of weeks and talked to a couple of different dealers, and told them you wanted a firm price, that it would adversely affect your credit score by them checking your credit."

"We were concerned about a number of things," said Osmond. "We wanted to make sure that insurance companies were not allowed to use this as their sole criteria. Some people, say those that are fairly wealthy and pay cash for everything, wouldn't have a lot of credit information and could be either not accepted or non-renewed based on that sole criteria."

He added, "We also wanted to make sure that this wasn't used to discriminate on a racial, gender or financial basis."

The new law further prohibits companies from using income, sex, race, gender or national origin in their credit modeling. When requested, insurance companies must provide credit information.

"This is to protect consumers," said Osmond. "There were people not understanding why they hadn't been renewed by their insurance companies."

4-H organizing; join, be a leader

Have you heard about 4-H and wondered what it's all about?

Have all of your questions answered at a 4-H informational meeting at 7 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 13 at the University of Illinois Extension Building, located at 100 S. Hwy. 45 in Grayslake.

Area 4-H leaders and members will be on hand to explain what 4-H clubs do, as well as showing and explaining how various projects are accomplished. They will also be happy to answer any questions you may have.

Following the meeting, there will be an opportunity to sign up for 4-H clubs located throughout Lake County. Or you can sign up to start your own club. Only five members are needed. Cloverbud groups (ages 5-7) will also be forming.

For more information about the meeting, 4-H, and the many projects and activities available, contact Sue Armitage at the University of Illinois Extension at 223-8627.

TIP OF THE WEEK By Pro Joe Bitterman at Bobby's Golf Center

• PROPER BALLSTRIKING FOR IRONS •

Many golfers tell me that they try to get under the ball, for the ball to get airborne. However, when trying to get under the ball, the clubhead is actually working in an upward direction. If the clubhead is working upward, the leading edge (or bottom of club) is striking the ball. There is no loft on the leading edge, the loft is on the club face. Rather than trying to get under the ball, swing down into the ball. The clubhead must be working in a descending motion for the ball to meet the clubface. A great reference for this principal would be the chip shot tip.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS WE DO NOT KNOWINGLY ACCEPT ADS FOR ANIMALS IN OUR FREE/ GIVE AWAY COLUMN. If you must give up your pet, please consider these facts.

*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are not reputable and are more concerned about making a profit than the animal.

*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

Employment Agencies need to be Chosen with CareBy Scott T. Fleischmann*

Companies, in order to find the best candidates, sometimes hire employment agencies to help with recruiting. Since these agencies usually work with many companies they are aware of many open job requisitions. Subsequently, they can often be a great resource for your job search. But how do you know which agencies to trust? Which is the best agency for you? What can you expect when you work with an agency? As we will see, there is a process for choosing and working with an employment agency that will answer some of these questions.

If you have decided to use an employment agency, talk to other people about the employment agencies they have used. The best information on an agency comes from those who have used their services. I would also interview the agencies that you are considering. Ask them about the companies that use their services and at which client they see your skills being most useful.

You will want to know if they specialize in specific skill sets, how long they have been in business and if you could talk to several of the people they have placed in jobs. Then call those people and ask if they were satisfied with the services that he or she received from the agency. Once you have decided on a specific agency, you will need to discuss the details of how they will provide services to you.

Employment agencies work for the employer. Since the employer pays them, their loyalty will be with the employer not with you. However, they have a responsibility to follow your directions. You will need to give them clear instructions on what services you want them to provide and what services you do not want them to provide. Tell them the specifics of the type of job you are seeking and the geographic area where you will work. If you feel that there could be confusion, I would also describe the jobs that you do not want and those areas where you do not want to work.

Regardless of your decision to work with an employment agency, you will need to control your own job search. One important decision you will need to make is whether you will utilize more than one agency and if you will continue to send out resumes even though you are working with the agency. I recommend doing both. Agencies are more apt to consider you for all open positions if they know that you could fill the position without their help or through another agency.

Since most agencies are paid only if they fill an employers open position (contingency) they want to get all of their qualified candidates in front of the client. Nevertheless, they often send those candidates over one at a time and many will not send over a new candidate until the last candidate has been rejected. However, if they know that you are also sending out your resume and that you are going through another agency they will be more likely to send your resume to all pertinent clients as soon as possible.

Employment agencies can be a useful tool for finding a job in a new company. Next week we will look at how to get the job you want in your current company.

Pet OF THE WEEK

Jackson is an absolute charmer. At just 4 months he's the picture of puppy energy and activity, a squiggly bag of affection and playfulness.

He's a purebred Springer Spaniel, and as such has a much a love of water as he does dry land, and is often found in the kennel kiddy pool, playing with a toy.

This youngster will be a wonderful family addition and companion as soon as he's had a bit of basic training since he seems very clever.

For adoption information about Jackson or other loving companions, canine and feline, call the Assisi Animal Foundation at (815) 455-9411.
